2. If a Party considers that a provision of this Agreement is inconsistent with a provision of another international agreement to which both Parties are party, the Parties shall, on request, consult with a view to reaching a mutually satisfactory solution.[1]

[1] For the purposes of the application of this Agreement, the Parties agree that the fact that a trade agreement provides more favourable treatment of goods, services, or persons than that provided for under this Agreement does not mean that there is an inconsistency within the meaning of this paragraph.

[2] The "Windsor Framework" has the same meaning as set out in Joint Declaration No 1/2023 of the Union and the United Kingdom in the Joint Committee established by the Agreement on the Withdrawal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from the European Union and the European Atomic Energy Community of 24 March 2023.

[3] The Parties note in particular that arrangements for democratic consent specified at Article 18 of the Windsor Framework may result in Articles 5 through 10, and other provisions of the Windsor Framework dependent on the same Articles for their application, ceasing to apply to the United Kingdom in accordance with the arrangements specified at Article 18.

or unjustified discrimination against the other Party or as a disguised restriction on trade.

5. On request of either Party, the Parties shall hold consultations, in relation to the effects of a measure described in paragraph 4 the United Kingdom has adopted, or absence thereof,[4] on this Agreement and seek a mutually acceptable solution.[5]

Article 1.3

Where reference is made in this Agreement to laws or regulations of a Party, those laws or regulations shall be understood to include amendments thereto and successor laws or regulations, unless otherwise provided in this Agreement.

2. Each Party shall promptly publish on the internet all fees and charges it imposes in connection with importation or exportation, including any updates or changes to such fees and charges. Fees and charges shall not be applied until information on them, including the responsible authority and when and how payment is to be made, has been published, to the extent possible in the English language.

   (g) are otherwise admissible into the Party's territory under its laws.

5. If any condition that a Party imposes under paragraph 4 has not been fulfilled, the Party may apply the import duties and taxes and any other charge that would normally be owed on the good in addition to any other charges, penalties or actions provided for under its law.

"Working Group on Rules of Origin" means the Working Group on Rules of Origin established pursuant to paragraph 1 of the Article 3.28 (Working Group on Rules of Origin).

Article 3.2
Origin Criteria

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, each Party shall provide that a good is originating if it is:

   (a) wholly obtained or produced entirely in the territory of one or both of the Parties as established in Article 3.3 (Wholly Obtained);

   (b) produced entirely in the territory of one or both of the Parties, exclusively from originating materials; or in each case, provided the good satisfies all other applicable requirements of this Chapter[2].

   (c) produced entirely in the territory of one or both of the Parties using non-originating materials, provided the good satisfies all applicable requirements of Annex 3A (Product-Specific Rules of Origin),

Wholly Obtained

1. Each Party shall provide that for the purposes of subparagraph 1(a) of Article 3.2 (Origin Criteria) the following goods shall be considered as wholly obtained or produced entirely in one or both of the Parties if they are:

   (a) minerals, mineral goods and other non-living natural resources extracted or taken from there;

   (b) plant and plant goods, including fruits, flowers, vegetables, trees, seaweed, and live plants, or fungi, or algae, grown, harvested, cultivated, picked or gathered there;

   (c) live animals born and raised there;

   (d) goods obtained from live animals raised[3] there;

   (e) goods obtained by hunting, trapping, fishing or aquaculture conducted there, but not beyond the outer limits of a Party's territorial sea;

[2] For greater clarity, final production of a good must have occurred in the exporting Party, except those activities as defined in subparagraph 2(b) of Article 3.14 (Non-Alteration).

[3] For greater clarity, this includes heifers imported into a Party and then raised there.

(f) fish, shellfish and other marine life taken from the sea, seabed or subsoil outside the territorial sea of each Party and outside the territorial sea of non-Parties in accordance with international law, by vessels that are registered with a Party and entitled to fly the flag of that Party;

(g) a good produced from the goods referred to in subparagraph (f) on a factory ship that is registered with a Party and entitled to fly the flag of that Party;

(h) minerals, mineral goods and other non-living natural resources, taken or extracted from the seabed or subsoil, outside the territories of the Parties, and beyond areas over which non-parties exercise jurisdiction; provided that that Party or person of the Party has rights to exploit such seabed or subsoil;

(i) a good, excluding precious metals, that is:

(i) waste or scrap derived from consumption or production there; or

(ii) waste or scrap derived from used goods collected there, provided that those goods are fit only for the recovery of raw materials; or

(j) goods and their derivatives produced there exclusively from goods referred to in subparagraphs (a) through (i).

Article 3.4
Value of the Good

1. For the purposes of this Chapter, each Party shall provide that the value of the good may be ex-works price or free-on-board (FOB) value.

2. The ex-works price is either:

(a) the price paid or payable for the good to the producer at the place where the last production was carried out, and shall include the value of all materials; or

(b) the price actually paid or payable for the good when sold for export.

3. If there is no price paid or payable or if it does not include the value of all materials, the ex-works price:

(a) shall include the value of all materials and the cost of production employed in producing the good, calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; and

(b) may include amounts for general expenses and profit to the producer that can be reasonably allocated to the good.

4. For the purposes of calculating the value of the good in accordance with paragraphs 2 or 3, the ex-works price shall:

   (a) not take into account any internal taxes which are, or may be, repaid when the good obtained is exported; and

   (b) exclude any costs incurred subsequent to the good leaving the place where the last production was carried out, such as transportation, loading, unloading, handling or insurance.

5. The FOB value shall be the price actually paid or payable to the exporter for a good when loaded onto the carrier at the named port of exportation, including the cost of the product, and all costs necessary to bring the good onto the carrier, not taking into account any internal taxes which are, or may be, repaid when the good obtained is exported.

Article 3.5
Qualifying Value Content

1. Where Annex 3A (Product Specific Rules of Origin) specifies a qualifying value content test to determine whether a good is originating, each Party shall provide that the qualifying value content shall be calculated using one of the following methods:

   (a) Build-Down Method: based on the value of non-originating materials

$$QVC = \frac{\text{value of the good-value of non-originating materials}}{\text{value of the good}} \times 100$$

   (b) Build-Up Method: based on the value of originating materials

$$QVC = \frac{\text{value of originating materials}}{\text{value of the good}} \times 100$$ where, QVC is the qualifying value content of a good, expressed as a percentage.

2. Each Party shall provide that the value of a material shall be:

   (a) for a material imported by the producer of the good, the price actually paid or payable for the material at the time of importation, or other value determined in accordance with the Customs Valuation Agreement, including the costs incurred in transporting the material to the port or place of importation, such as transportation, loading, unloading, handling or insurance;

   (b) for a material acquired in the territory where the good is produced:

      (i) the price paid or payable by the producer in the Party where the producer is located;

(ii) the value as determined for an imported material in subparagraph (a); or

(iii) the earliest ascertainable price paid or payable in the territory of the Party; or

(c) for a material that is self-produced, all the costs incurred in the production of the material, which includes general expenses.

3. For an originating material, the following expenses may be added to the value of the material, if not included under paragraph 2:

(a) the costs of freight, insurance, packing, and all other costs incurred to transport the material to the location of the producer of the good;

(b) duties, taxes, and customs brokerage fees on the material, paid in the territory of a Party, other than duties and taxes that are waived, refunded, refundable, or otherwise recoverable, which include credit against duty or tax paid or payable; and

(c) the cost of waste and spoilage resulting from the use of the material in the production of the good, less the value of reusable scrap or by-product.

4. For a non-originating material or material of undetermined origin, the following expenses, where included under paragraph 2, may be deducted from the value of the material:

(a) the costs of freight, insurance, packing, and all other costs incurred in transporting the material to the location of the producer of the good;

(b) duties, taxes, and customs brokerage fees on the material paid in the territory of one or both Parties, other than duties and taxes that are waived, refunded, refundable, or otherwise recoverable, which include credit against duty or tax paid or payable; and

(c) the cost of waste and spoilage resulting from the use of the material in the production of the good, less the value of reusable scrap or by-product.

5. If the cost or expense listed in paragraphs 3 or 4 is unknown or documentary evidence of the amount of the adjustment is not available, then no adjustment is allowed for that particular cost or expense.

Article 3.6
Materials Used in Production

1. Each Party shall provide that if a non-originating material undergoes further production such that it satisfies the requirements of this Chapter, the material is treated as originating when determining the originating status of the subsequently produced good, regardless of whether that material was produced by the producer of the good.

2. Each Party shall provide that if a non-originating material is used in the production of a good, the following may be counted as originating content in determining whether the resulting good meets a qualifying value content requirement:

   (a) the value of processing of the non-originating material undertaken in the territory of the exporting Party; and

   (b) the value of any originating material used in the production of the non-originating material undertaken in the territory of one or both of the Parties.

Article 3.7
Non-Qualifying Operations

1. Each Party shall provide that, notwithstanding any provisions in this Chapter, a good shall not be considered to be originating merely by undergoing any of the following operations in the territory of that Party:

   (a) operations to ensure the preservation of products in good condition during transport and storage (such as drying, freezing or thawing, keeping in brine, removal of damaged parts) and other similar operations;

   (b) changes of packaging and breaking up and assembly of packages;

   (c) washing, cleaning, removal of dust, oxide, oil, paint or other coverings;

   (d) for textiles: attaching accessory articles such as straps, bands, beads, cords, rings and eyelets; ironing or pressing of textiles;

   (e) simple painting and polishing;

   (f) husking, partial or total bleaching, polishing, and glazing of cereals and rice;

   (g) operations to colour sugar or form sugar lumps;

   (h) peeling and removal of stones and shells from fruits, nuts and vegetables;

   (i) sharpening, simple grinding or simple cutting;

   (j) simple operations such as removal of dust, sifting, screening, sorting, classifying, grading, or matching;

(k) simple placing in bottles, cans, flasks, bags, cases, boxes, fixing on cards or boards and all other simple packaging operations;

(l) affixing or printing marks, labels, logos and other like distinguishing signs on products or their packaging;

(m) simple mixing of goods, whether or not of different kinds; mixing of sugar or any other sweetening matter to any good;

(n) simple assembly of parts of articles to constitute a complete article or disassembly of products into parts;

(o) slaughter of animals;

(p) simple testing, calibration, inspection or certification;

(q) dilution with water or another substance that does not materially alter the characteristics of the good;

(r) a production or pricing practice in respect of which it may be demonstrated, on the basis of a preponderance of evidence, that the object was to circumvent the provisions of this Chapter; or

(s) any combination of two or more operations in subparagraphs (a) through (r)

2. For the purposes of paragraph 1, "simple" describes an activity which needs neither special skills nor machines, apparatus or equipment especially produced or installed to carry out the activity.

Article 3.8
Cumulation

Each Party shall provide that an originating good or material in the territory of one Party, under the terms of Article 3.2 (Origin Criteria) and all the other applicable requirements of this Chapter, that is incorporated in the production of a good in the territory of the other Party is considered to originate in the territory of the other Party.

Article 3.9
Tolerance

1. Each Party shall provide that a good containing non-originating materials that does not satisfy the applicable change in tariff classification requirement or wholly obtained requirement specified in Annex 3A (Product Specific Rules of Origin) for the good is nonetheless originating if:

(a) in the case of a good in Chapters 1 through 3, 5, 6, 10 and 14 of the Harmonized System:

(i) the value of those non-originating materials does not exceed 7.5 percent of the value of the good; or

(ii) the net weight of those non-originating materials does not exceed 7.5 percent of the net weight of the good; and the good satisfies all other applicable requirements of this Chapter;

(b) in the case of a good in Chapters 4, 7 through 9, 11 through 13 and 15 through 24 of the Harmonized System:

(i) the value of those non-originating materials does not exceed 12.5 percent of the value of the good; or

(ii) the net weight of those non-originating materials does not exceed 12.5 percent of the net weight of the good;

and the good satisfies all other applicable requirements of this Chapter; or

(c) in the case of a good in Chapters 25 through 98 of the Harmonized System, the value of those non-originating materials does not exceed 12.5 percent of the value of the good and the good satisfies all other applicable requirements of this Chapter.

2. If a good is also subject to a qualifying value content requirement, the value of those non-originating materials shall be included in the value of non-originating materials for any applicable qualifying value content requirement.

Article 3.10
Fungible Goods and Materials

1. Each Party shall provide that a fungible good or material is treated as originating based on the:

(a) physical segregation of each fungible good or material; or

(b) use of any inventory management method recognised in the generally accepted accounting principles of the Party where the production is performed, if the fungible good or material is commingled, provided that the inventory management method selected is used throughout the fiscal year of the person that selected the inventory management method.

2. The inventory management method chosen must:

(a) allow a clear distinction to be made between originating and non-originating materials including materials of undetermined origin acquired or kept in stock; and

(b) ensure that, over the relevant accounting period of 12 months, no more goods or materials receive originating status than would have been the case if the fungible goods or materials had been physically segregated.

3. For greater certainty and in accordance with subparagraph 1(b) of Article 3.24 (Record Keeping Requirements), a producer using an inventory management system shall keep records of the operation of the system that are necessary for the authority of the Party concerned to verify compliance with the provisions of this Chapter.

Article 3.11
Accessories, Spare Parts or Tools

1. Each Party shall provide that the origin of the accessories, spare parts, tools or instructional or other information materials presented with a good:

(a) shall be disregarded in determining whether a good satisfies a process or change in tariff classification or wholly obtained requirement for the good; and

(b) shall be taken into account as originating or non-originating materials, as the case may be, in calculating the qualifying value content of the good, if the good is subject to a qualifying value content requirement

2. Paragraph 1 shall only apply where:

(a) the accessories, spare parts, tools and instructional or other information materials presented with the good are not invoiced separately from the good; and

(b) the quantities and value of the accessories, spare parts, tools and instructional or other information materials presented with the good are customary for that good.

Article 3.12
Packaging and Packing Materials

1. Each Party shall provide that for the purpose of determining whether a good is originating, packaging and packing materials and containers in which a good is packaged for retail sale shall, if classified with the good, be:

(a) disregarded in determining whether a good satisfies a process or change in tariff classification or wholly obtained requirement for the good; and

(b) taken into account as originating or non-originating materials, as the case may be, in calculating the qualifying value content of the good.

2. Each Party shall provide that packaging and packing materials and containers, used for the shipment of a good shall be disregarded in determining whether a good is originating.

Article 3.13
Indirect Materials

Indirect materials shall neither be considered originating nor non-originating for the purposes of calculating qualifying value content pursuant to Article 3.5 (Qualifying Value Content).

Article 3.14
Non-Alteration

1. Each Party shall provide that an originating good retains its originating status if the good has been transported to the importing Party without passing through the territory of a non-Party.

2. Each Party shall provide that an originating good transported through or stored in a non-Party shall retain its originating status provided it:

   (a) remains under customs control, such as in a warehouse, and is not released to free circulation or trade[4] in the territory of any non-Party; and

   (b) does not undergo further production or any other operation outside the territories of the Parties, other than unloading, reloading, splitting up of loads, separation from bulk, storing, labelling, marking, bottling,[5] or any operation necessary to preserve it in good condition.

3. An importer shall provide to the customs authority of the importing Party upon request:

   (a) information, including documentation, demonstrating that the conditions set out in paragraph 2 have been fulfilled; and

   (b) where bottling has taken place in a non-Party, transportation documents and commercial documents indicating the entire transport route of the good from the exporting party to the importing party, and information including documentation demonstrating that the good remained under customs control, such as a non-manipulation certificate issued by a customs authority in the non-party.

   (b) is submitted to the customs authority of the importing Party in accordance with the laws and regulations of the importing Party;

   (c) shall follow the appropriate prescribed structure as set out in Annex 3B (Origin Declaration Template) or Annex 3C (Certificate of Origin Template);

   (f) may apply to importations of a single shipment of one or more goods; and

   (g) shall be in the English language.

3. For the United Kingdom, an origin declaration or a certificate of origin may apply to importations of multiple shipments of identical goods within any period specified in the origin declaration or the certificate of origin, where such period does not exceed 12 months.

4. In exceptional circumstances, the customs authority of the importing Party may accept a proof of origin for the purpose of granting preferential tariff treatment even after the expiry of its validity provided the failure to observe the time limit results from force majeure or other valid reasons beyond the control of the exporter and the goods have been imported before the expiry of the validity period.

5. An importing Party shall not deny a claim for preferential tariff treatment for the sole reason that an invoice or other commercial document referred to in subparagraph 2(e) was issued in a non-Party or not issued by the exporter or producer of a good, provided that it meets the requirements in this Chapter.

6. Subject to paragraph 7, each Party shall provide that a proof of origin shall be issued or completed prior to or at the time of importation.

7. Notwithstanding paragraph 6, a proof of origin may be completed after importation, provided that the good was originating at the time of importation in order to qualify for a late claim as set out in Article 3.20 (Refunds and Claims for Preferential Tariff Treatment after Importation). A proof of origin completed after importation shall bear the words "completed retrospectively" and shall include an explanation as to why the proof of origin is completed retrospectively.

If unassembled or disassembled goods within the meaning of General Rule 2(a) of the Harmonized System are imported by more than one shipment, a single origin declaration for such goods may be used on request of the importer and in accordance with the requirement laid down by the customs authority of the importing Party.[6]

Article 3.16
Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment

1. The United Kingdom shall provide that if the importer of a good makes a claim for preferential tariff treatment based on the importer's knowledge that the good is originating, the claim is made subject to the importer having documentation demonstrating that the good is originating. Such documentation may have been provided to the importer by the exporter, producer or any other person.

2. Each Party shall provide that if a producer declares the origin of a good, the origin declaration is completed on the basis of the producer having information that the good is originating.

[6] For India, this includes a requirement to use a single import declaration for such goods.

3. Each Party shall provide that, if the exporter is not the producer of the good and the exporter declares the origin of a good, the origin declaration is completed on the basis of the exporter having information to demonstrate that the good is originating, which may include a reliance on the producer's information.

4. India shall provide that if the issuing authority issues a certificate of origin, the certificate of origin is issued on the basis of the issuing authority receiving information that the good is originating from the exporter or the producer.

5. For greater certainty, nothing in this Article shall be construed to allow the importing Party to require an importer to request the exporter or producer to provide confidential information to the importer.

6. For the purpose of enabling India to establish the authenticity of an origin declaration prior to an Indian importer making a claim for preferential tariff treatment, subject to paragraph 8 and Annex 3E (Data Protection and Processing of Personal Information), there shall be an authentication process that is provided for in accordance with paragraph 7.

7 The Parties shall, on entry into force of this Agreement, agree and provide for the modalities of the authentication process referred to in paragraph 6 which shall include ensuring that the necessary systems for enabling the electronic exchange of information are in place, following the framework set out in Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations).

8. Annex 3E (Data Protection and Processing of Personal Information) shall apply to information processed by the Parties or shared between the Parties pursuant to the authentication process referred to in paragraph 7 and Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations). The Parties shall, if appropriate, mutually agree to modify Annex 3E (Data Protection and Processing of Personal Information).

(a) the customs value of the importation does not exceed 1,000 pounds sterling or any higher amount as the United Kingdom may specify; or

(b) it is a good for which the United Kingdom has waived the requirements set out in Articles 3.15 (Proof of Origin) and 3.16 (Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment).

3. Paragraph 1 does not apply if the importation forms part of a series of importations which the customs authority of the United Kingdom reasonably considers to have been carried out or planned for the purpose of evading compliance with its laws and regulations governing claims for preferential tariff treatment made under this Agreement.

4. A Party shall provide that the importer shall be responsible for the correctness of the declaration referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article and for compliance with the requirements of this Chapter.

Article 3.19

Except as otherwise provided in paragraph 2, each Party shall grant a claim for preferential tariff treatment made in accordance with this Chapter for a good that, on or after the date of entry into force of this Agreement, arrives in that Party or is released from customs control in that Party.

2. The importing Party may deny a claim for preferential tariff treatment if:

(a) it determines that the good does not qualify as originating within the terms of this Chapter or does not satisfy the requirements of this Chapter;

(b) pursuant to a verification under Article 3.25 (Verification of Origin), it has not received sufficient information, including any information that may have been received or provided by the competent authority of the exporting Party, to determine:

2. Each Party shall encourage its customs authority, when considering imposing a penalty in relation to a claim for preferential tariff treatment, to consider as a significant mitigating factor a notification given prior to the discovery of that error by the Party and, provided that in accordance with paragraph 1, the importer corrects the error and pays any duties owing.

Article 3.22
Errors and Discrepancies

1. A Party shall not reject a proof of origin due to minor errors or discrepancies, omissions of information or typing errors or formatting errors, provided these minor errors or discrepancies do not create doubt as to the originating status of a good.

2. Each Party shall provide that, if its customs authority determines that a proof of origin in respect of a good imported into that Party is illegible or defective on its face, the importer shall be granted a period of 30 days from the date of communication from the customs authority of the importing Party to provide a copy of the corrected proof of origin.

Article 3.23

For greater certainty, Article 3.19 (Determinations of Claims for Preferential Tariff Treatment) remains applicable pursuant to such a request. In the case of suspected fraud, collusion, wilful misstatement, and suppression of facts where such a request is made within a period of five years from the date on which the claim for preferential tariff treatment was made, the requested Party shall ensure that it responds to the request within 12 months. In exceptional cases, the Parties may by mutual agreement agree to extend this period for a further six months.

6. A request made pursuant to paragraph 4 may also include a request for the competent authority of the exporting Party to verify specific information held by the exporter, producer or supplier necessary to determine the origin of the good, such as:

(a) requesting, in writing, specific information and documentation from the exporter, producer or supplier referred to in paragraph 6;

(b) requesting, in writing (including by way of questionnaire), such information from the exporter, a producer, or a supplier to ascertain the veracity of the information that formed the basis of the proof of origin; and

9. As soon as possible, and in any event within seven months of receiving a request under paragraph 4 the competent authority of the exporting Party shall provide the customs authority of the importing Party with a verification report. In exceptional cases, the Parties may agree, by mutual agreement, to extend this period by a further three months. The verification report shall include the following:

11. If, upon receiving the verification report under paragraph 9, the customs authority of the importing Party is unable to make a determination, it may request that the competent authority of the exporting Party verifies specific additional information, as set out in the request, relating to the origin of the good, which may include the information referred to in paragraph 6, by way of a written request to the exporter, producer or supplier.

12. In exceptional circumstances, if, following a request under paragraph 11, the customs authority of the importing Party is unable to make a determination, it may request that the competent authority of the exporting Party conducts a visit to the exporter, producer or supplier. The customs authority of the importing Party shall only make a request where it reasonably considers the visit necessary to make a determination. The request for such a verification visit shall be made no later than 30 days of the receipt of the response from the competent authority of the exporting Party to a request made under paragraph 11. The competent authority of the exporting Party shall respond to the request for a visit within 45 days.

13. Upon acceptance of a request for a visit under paragraph 12, the competent authority of the exporting Party shall give a notice of at least 21 days to the competent authority of the importing Party so as to enable arrangements for the visit.

14. Subject to any reasonable conditions set out by the competent authority of the exporting Party, such as health and safety requirements, the customs authority

(a) any person designated as an observer is a government official of the importing Party; and

(b) any observer acts through the competent authority of the exporting Party and does not, on its own initiative, look for documents, conduct any searches, or question the exporter, producer or supplier directly.

15. The competent authority of the exporting Party shall share the information on the visit including the manner in which the visit was conducted as well as the subject and scope of the verification within 45 days of the conclusion of the visit.

16. A verification under this Article may be conducted at any time after the claim for preferential tariff treatment is made.

17. A request for verification under this Article shall be conducted on the basis of risk assessment methods, which may include random selection, or on the basis of intelligence.

18. During verification, the importing Party may allow the release of the good, subject to payment of any duties or provision of any security as provided for in its laws and regulations. In accordance with the laws and regulations of the importing Party, if as a result of the verification the importing Party determines that the good meets all the requirements of this Chapter, it shall grant preferential tariff treatment to the good and refund any excess duties paid or release any security provided, unless the security also covers other obligations.

19. The customs authority of the importing Party shall reserve the right to issue the final determination of origin in accordance with Article 3.19 (Determinations of Claims for Preferential Tariff Treatment), provided that the determination takes into account the information provided to it by the competent authority of the exporting Party as well as any independent findings or investigation.

20. The customs authority of the importing Party shall:

(a) make a determination following a verification as expeditiously as possible and no later than one year from the date it receives information which, in its opinion, is sufficient to enable it to make such a determination. If permitted by its laws and regulations, a Party may extend this period in exceptional cases, such as where the information concerned is complex. This time period will not apply to verifications pertaining to cases of suspected fraud, collusion, wilful misstatement, and suppression of facts referred to in paragraph 5;

(b) provide the importer with a written determination of whether the good is originating that includes the reasons for the determination; and

(c) provide the competent authority of the exporting Party with a written determination of whether the good is originating including the reasons for that determination.

21. The competent authorities of the Parties shall cooperate in the overall operation and administration of the verification process including establishing priorities, by mutual agreement, if there are a significant number of requests.

22. The customs authorities of the Parties shall bear their own costs in carrying out the activities referred to in this Article.

Article 3.26
Temporary Suspension of Preferential Tariff Treatment[11]

1. Subject to the possibility of exemption under paragraph 11, the importing Party may, in accordance with the procedure laid down in paragraph 3, temporarily suspend preferential tariff treatment in respect of a good for which an exporter or producer has completed a proof of origin, if:

   (a) a good has been subject to verification in accordance with Article 3.25 (Verification of Origin) on at least two separate occasions and the second occasion is in respect of a proof of origin dated at least one month after the competent authority of the importing Party provides the determination to the competent authority of the exporting Party in respect of the first occasion; and

   (b) each verification results in the denial of preferential tariff treatment in accordance with Article 3.19 (Determinations of Claims for Preferential Tariff Treatment).

2. Suspension of preferential tariff treatment under paragraph 1 shall only apply to a good imported after the suspension is initiated, if that good is:

   (a) classified under the same classification code as specified in the import declaration of the good that was subject to verification under paragraph 1; and

   (b) exported or produced by the exporter or producer who completed the proof of origin of the good that was subject to verification under paragraph 1.

3. If the importing Party intends to temporarily suspend preferential tariff treatment in accordance with paragraph 1, it shall notify the competent authority of the exporting Party at least 15 days prior to the commencement of any suspension. This notification shall include the following:

[11] For greater certainty, a good subject to verification which has been released subject to the payment of any duties or provision of any security in accordance with paragraph 18 of Article 3.25 (Verification of Origin) shall not constitute temporary suspension of preferential tariff treatment under this Article.

(a) the name of the exporter or producer and their reference number;

(b) detailed reasons for the intention to suspend preferential tariff treatment;

(c) a detailed description of the good subject to suspension, including the corresponding commodity code as specified in the import declaration, and the description of the good as set out in the proof of origin;

(d) the time period for which the temporary suspension is to be in effect;

(e) information on the measures necessary for the restoration of preferential tariff treatment; and

(f) any other relevant information.

4. Temporary suspension pursuant to paragraph 1 shall apply only for the period necessary to counteract breaches or circumventions of this Chapter and to protect the financial interests of the importing Party. The competent authority of the importing Party shall restore preferential tariff treatment suspended in accordance with paragraph 1 if the competent authority of the exporting Party provides evidence and the Parties agree that the conditions that gave rise to the suspension no longer persist. If the importing Party is not satisfied that the evidence provided by the competent authority of the exporting Party demonstrates that the conditions that gave rise to the suspension no longer persist, they shall provide their reasoning. Where the conditions that gave rise to the suspension persist at the expiry of the period of the temporary suspension, the importing Party may decide to renew the suspension. Any renewal of suspension shall be notified to the competent authority of the exporting Party.

5. Subject to the possibility of exemption under paragraph 11, the importing Party may temporarily suspend the relevant preferential tariff treatment for future imports of the same good classified under an identified classification code as specified in the import declaration in accordance with the procedure laid down in paragraphs 7 to 9 if:

(a) the importing Party suspects, based on verifiable information that deliberate breaches of this Chapter have been committed in respect of that good;

(b) the good has been subject to verification in accordance with Article 3.25 (Verification of Origin) for at least two different exporters or producers, each being subject to verification on at least two separate occasions, and the second occasion is in respect of a proof of origin dated at least one month after the competent authority of the importing Party provides the determination to the competent authority of the exporting Party in respect of the first occasion; and

(c) each verification results in the denial of preferential tariff treatment in accordance with Article 3.19 (Determinations of Claims for Preferential Tariff Treatment).

6. For the purposes of paragraph 5, the exporters or producers subject to verification shall collectively account for the majority of the total exports of those goods from the exporting Party to the importing Party in the 12 months preceding the date of the first request for verification referred to in subparagraph 5(b).

7. If the importing Party intends to temporarily suspend preferential tariff treatment in accordance with paragraph 5, it shall notify the Working Group on Rules of Origin and, on the exporting Party's request, shall enter into consultations with the exporting Party. The importing Party shall provide that the notification to the Working Group on Rules of Origin includes evidence that the requirements in paragraphs 5 and 6 have been met. Consultations shall aim to clarify the grounds for intention to suspend, be used to discuss any mitigating factors, and explore possible solutions to avoid suspension. No suspension shall take place until the consultation process has concluded, unless the Parties agree otherwise.

8. If the Parties fail to agree on a mutually acceptable solution or no consultations have been entered into within one month after the date of notification made in accordance with paragraph 7, or such other period as the Parties may mutually agree, the importing Party may temporarily suspend the relevant preferential tariff treatment. In that case, the importing Party shall notify the temporary suspension, including the period during which it intends the temporary suspension to apply, to the Working Group on Rules of Origin without delay.

9. Temporary suspension pursuant to paragraph 5 shall apply only for the period necessary to counteract breaches or circumventions of this Chapter and to protect the financial interests of the importing Party. The Parties shall keep any suspension under review through the Working Group on Rules of Origin and, where it is agreed by the Parties that the suspension is no longer necessary, the importing Party shall bring it to an end. Where the conditions that gave rise to the suspension pursuant to paragraph 5 persist at the expiry of the initial period of the temporary suspension, the importing Party may decide to renew the suspension. Any renewal of suspension shall be notified to the exporting Party.

10. Each Party shall publish, in accordance with its internal procedures, notices to importers about any decision concerning temporary suspension referred to in paragraph 5.

11. Notwithstanding paragraphs 1 and 5, if an exporter or producer is able to satisfy the exporting Party that such goods are fully compliant with the requirements of this Chapter and the importing Party agrees, the importing Party shall exempt those goods from the suspension.

Article 3.27

2. Each Party shall maintain, in conformity with its law, the confidentiality of any information collected pursuant to this Chapter and shall protect that information from disclosure that could prejudice the competitive position of the person to whom the information relates.

3. Each Party shall ensure that confidential information collected pursuant to this Chapter shall not be used or disclosed for purposes other than the administration and enforcement of determination of origin or of customs matters, except with the permission of the person or Party who provided the confidential information.

4. Notwithstanding paragraph 2 and 3, if the Party receiving or obtaining the information is required by its law to disclose the information for purposes other than the administration and enforcement of determination of origin or of customs matters, that Party shall, where possible, notify the person or Party who provided the information of such use. That notification shall, where possible, be given in advance of such use.

5. Notwithstanding paragraph 3, a Party may allow information collected pursuant to this Chapter to be used in any administrative, judicial, or quasi-judicial proceedings instituted for failure to comply with customs-related laws and regulations implementing this Chapter. A Party shall, where possible, notify the person or Party who provided the information of such use. That notification shall, where possible, be given in advance of such use.

6. The Parties shall, if one of them so requests, exchange information on their respective law for the purpose of facilitating the operation and application of this Article.

   (d) "sub-heading" means the first six digits of the tariff classification number under the Harmonized System.

2. The product specific rule, or set of product specific rules, that apply to a particular chapter, heading or sub-heading are described in this Annex at Column 3. Where, in some cases, a chapter or heading is preceded by "ex", this signifies that the product specific rule applies only to part of that chapter or heading. Where a sub-heading is preceded by "ex", this signifies that the product specific rule applies only to part of that sub-heading, as per the description at Column 2.

3. Section notes, where applicable, are found at the beginning of each section, and are read in conjunction with the product specific rules of origin and may impose further conditions on, or provide an alternative, product specific rule of origin.

4. A requirement of a change in tariff classification applies only to non-originating materials.

5. If a chapter, heading or sub-heading is excluded as part of a change in tariff classification rule, it means that non-originating materials of that chapter, heading or sub-heading may not be used to meet the change in tariff classification rule.

6. Note 5 does not apply where non-originating materials do not exceed either the relevant value or weight percentage as specified for that chapter as set out in Article 3.9 (Tolerance).

7. Where a chapter, heading or sub-heading is subject to alternative product specific rules, the requirements of this Annex will be considered to be satisfied if a good satisfies one of the alternative rules.

8. If a good is subject to a product specific rule that includes multiple requirements, the requirements of this Annex will be considered to be satisfied for that good only if the good satisfies all applicable requirements.

9. For the purposes of Section B of this Annex:

(a) "WO" means wholly obtained as established in Article 3.3 (Wholly Obtained);

(b) "CC" means that all non-originating materials used in the production of the good have undergone a change in tariff classification at the two-digit level;

(c) "CTH" means that all non-originating materials used in the production of the good have undergone a change in tariff classification at the four-digit level;

(d) "CTSH" means that all non-originating materials used in the production of the good have undergone a change in tariff classification at the six-digit level;

(e) "QVC" means that the good must have a qualifying value content as calculated under Article 3.5 (Qualifying Value Content) of not less than the percentage specified in Column 3, whether using the build-up method or build-down method;

(f) "Standard QVC" means that the good must have a qualifying value content as calculated under Article 3.5 (Qualifying Value Content) of not less than:

(i) 40 percent of the ex-works price under the build-down method;

(ii) 45 percent of the free-on-board value under the build-down method; or

(iii) 35 percent of either the ex-works price or free-on-board value under the build-up method;

(g) "build-down method" means the good has a qualifying value content calculated using the build-down method under Article 3.5 (Qualifying Value Content);

(h) "build-up method" means the good has a qualifying value content calculated using the build-up method under Article 3.5 (Qualifying Value Content);

(i) "ex-works price" means the good is valued in accordance with Article 3.4 (Value of the Good);

(j) "free-on-board value" means the good is valued in accordance with Article 3.4 (Value of the Good); and

(k) "Melt and Pour" means the process undertaken in one or both of the Parties where the iron or steel is: (a) first produced in an iron or steel-making furnace in a liquid state; and then (b) poured into its first solid shape.

ANNEX 3D
Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations

For the purpose of enabling India to establish the authenticity of an origin declaration, in accordance with Article 3.16 (Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment):

1. an exporter or producer intending to export goods to India and complete an origin declaration under this Agreement shall provide the customs authority of the United Kingdom with the information necessary to authenticate their identity;

2. the customs authority of the United Kingdom shall review the information provided by the exporter or producer and shall share relevant information, as agreed by the Parties, electronically with the customs authority of India. The information shared shall include unique reference numbers, registered email addresses of exporters and producers and other information as agreed by the Parties necessary to identify the exporter or producer so as to enable confirmation that the same exporter or producer has completed the origin declaration. The customs authority of the United Kingdom shall update the information from time to time and inform the customs authority of India of such amendments. The customs authority of India shall use this information to create and maintain a database of United Kingdom exporters and producers;

3. the exporter or producer shall send the origin declaration, completed in accordance with Article 3.15 (Proof of Origin) and Annex 3B (Origin Declaration Template), to the nodal email address of the customs authority of India and to the email address of the Indian importer within the same email. The origin declaration shall be sent as an attachment in a file type to be agreed between the Parties. The subject line of the email shall follow a structure to be agreed between the Parties.

4. the customs authority of India shall review the information sent by the exporter or producer in accordance with paragraph 3 against the database referred to in paragraph 2;

5. if the information is successfully matched, the authenticity of the origin declaration shall be established. The customs authority of India shall notify the email address of the exporter or producer that sent the email referred to in paragraph 3 that authenticity has been established and that a claim for preferential tariff treatment using the origin declaration may be made by the Indian importer. The importer shall be copied into this notification email. The contents of the notification email shall be agreed by the Parties;

6. if the information is not successfully matched, the customs authority of India shall notify the email address of the exporter or producer that sent the email referred to in paragraph 3 that authenticity has not been established. The Indian importer shall be copied into this notification email. The contents of the notification email shall be agreed by the Parties. The customs authority of India shall also automatically send an alert to the registered email address corresponding to the unique reference number held on the database referred to in paragraph 2; and

7. if the authenticity of the origin declaration is not established through this process, the importer shall not be entitled to make a claim for preferential tariff treatment. The exporter or producer may start the authentication process again by sending the email referred to in paragraph 3 from a registered email address corresponding to the unique reference number in the database referred to in paragraph 2, or by updating their information with the customs authority of the United Kingdom in order for the customs authority of the United Kingdom to restart the process from paragraph 2.

For greater certainty, the authentication process set out in this Annex does not constitute a claim for preferential tariff treatment and no penalty shall be imposed solely on the basis that authenticity has not been established in accordance with this Annex.

Purpose and Use Limitation

1. Subject to paragraph 2, the transfer of personal data shall solely be for the specified purpose of establishing the authenticity of an origin declaration in accordance with paragraphs 6 and 7 of Article 3.16 (Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment) and Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations). The receiving Party shall not further process the relevant personal data in a manner that is incompatible with the purpose for which it was transferred. Compatible processing includes processing pursuant to the terms of the Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations), administration and enforcement of determination of origin or of customs matters under this Chapter, and any other authentication instruments that may be agreed between the Parties.

2. The receiving customs authority shall not process the relevant personal data for purposes other than those set out in paragraph 1, unless it has received written approval from the transferring customs authority.

Article 3E.4
Data Accuracy and Minimisation

1. The transferring customs authority shall only transfer personal data that is adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purpose of processing. The transferring customs authority shall ensure that, to the best of its knowledge, the personal data it transfers is accurate and up to date.

2. If a customs authority becomes aware that the personal data it has transferred or received is inaccurate, or has become outdated, it shall inform the other customs authority without undue delay. Each customs authority shall take reasonable steps to ensure that inaccurate personal data is erased, corrected or otherwise rectified as appropriate and in a timely manner, having regard to the purpose of processing.

Article 3E.5
Storage Limitation

The receiving customs authority shall retain the personal data for no longer than necessary and appropriate for the purpose for which it is processed, including any administrative, quasi-judicial or judicial proceedings initiated for the failure to comply with laws and regulations implementing this Chapter. The receiving customs authority shall put in place appropriate technical or organisational measures to ensure compliance with this obligation.

Article 3E.6
Security of Processing

1. The transferring customs authority during the transmission of the personal data and the receiving customs authority upon receipt of the personal data, shall implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure the security of the personal data, including protection against accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, or alteration, and protection against unauthorised disclosure or access.

2. Subject to paragraph 3, in the event of a personal data breach concerning personal data processed by the transferring customs authority or the receiving customs authority, the customs authority concerned shall notify the other customs authority as soon as possible but no later than 24 hours from the time of discovering the personal data breach. The notification may include appropriate restrictions as to the further transmission of the personal data.

3. In the event of personal data breach, the customs authority concerned may delay or omit the notification when such notification could endanger security of the Party or any form of public security operations.

4. In the event of personal data breach, the customs authority concerned shall use reasonable and appropriate means to remedy the personal data breach, including measures to minimise and mitigate possible adverse effects and prevent such a breach from taking place again.

5. In the event of personal data breach, the customs authority concerned shall document, report, investigate and keep records of the personal data breach, including its effects and any remedial action taken. The other customs authority may request information on the outcome of the investigation, relating to transfers of personal data under this Annex.

Article 3E.7
Access

1. Each customs authority shall ensure it has appropriate measures in place to respond, without undue delay, to any enquiries and requests it receives from data subjects relating to the processing of their personal data pursuant to this Annex, subject to the restrictions in Article 3E.10 (Restrictions).

2. In particular, upon request by a data subject, the relevant customs authority to the extent applicable shall provide the following:

   (a) confirmation to the data subject as to whether personal data relating to them is being processed;

   (b) a copy of the personal data relating to them;

   (c) confirmation that the personal data held by the receiving customs authority is consistent with the data received from the transferring Party;

   (d) the information contained in Article 3E.11 (Transparency);

   (e) information on any onward transfer under Article 3E.13 (Onward Disclosure and Transfer of Personal Data); and

   (f) information on the right to lodge a complaint with the customs authority.

3. The transferring customs authority shall, at the request of the receiving customs authority, cooperate with the receiving customs authority in responding to enquiries and requests from data subjects under paragraphs 1 and 2.

4. Each customs authority shall provide that the information set out in paragraph 2 is provided free of charge within the time limits set out in Article 3E.12 (Time Limits).

5. If the provision of such information is denied or restricted, the customs authority shall inform the data subject in writing without undue delay, setting out the basis for the denial or restriction.

6. Each customs authority may publish guidance relating to the operation of this Article.

Rectification

1. Each customs authority shall ensure that data subjects are able to seek the correction or rectification of their personal data if they assert that it is inaccurate, no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected or processed, or has not been processed in accordance with the applicable legal requirements or requirements of this Annex. Correction or rectification may include supplementation, erasure, blocking, or other measures or methods for addressing inaccuracies or improper processing. On request by a data subject seeking correction or rectification, the customs authority that received the request shall liaise with the other customs authority when considering the request. Upon reaching a decision, the customs authority that received the request shall inform the data subject, without undue delay, whether the data has been corrected or rectified, or whether the request has been denied, and provide reasons for the denial.

2. If the customs authority concludes that personal data it has received under the Agreement is inaccurate, has been improperly processed, or has been kept longer than necessary following a request by a data subject under Article 3E.7 (Access) or through its own investigation or inquiry, it shall take the correction or rectification measures set out in paragraph 1, as appropriate.

3. The transferring customs authority shall, at the request of the receiving customs authority, provide reasonable assistance to the receiving customs authority in taking any appropriate correction or rectification measures pursuant to paragraph 1 or 2.

4. The correction or rectification request by the data subject in a particular case may be subject to reasonable restrictions as set out in Article 3E.10 (Restrictions). If correction or rectification is denied or restricted, the customs authority that received the request shall, without undue delay, inform the data subject in writing as to the basis for the denial or restriction.

5. Each customs authority may publish guidance relating to the operation of this Article.

Automated Decisions

If a customs authority uses solely automated decision making, it shall use its best endeavours to have suitable measures in place to inform the relevant data subject about the reasons underlying the automated decision where this has resulted in authenticity not being established under Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations).

Article 3E.10
Restrictions

1. Each Party shall provide that the measures set out in Articles 3E.7 (Access) and 3E.8 (Rectification) are subject to the Party's legal obligation not to disclose confidential information pursuant to professional secrecy or other legal obligations.

2. Each Party may restrict disclosure to prevent prejudice or harm to supervisory or enforcement functions of an authority of the Party acting in the exercise of the official authority vested in it.

3. Each Party shall provide that provisions restricting disclosure shall only be relied on, if necessary, provided by law and in accordance with this Annex. Each Party shall provide that reliance continues only for as long as the reason for the restriction on disclosure exists.

4. The receiving customs authority shall ensure that the relevant data subject is informed in writing about the restriction applied, without undue delay, unless doing so would prejudice the reasons for the restriction.

Article 3E.11
Transparency

1. Each Party shall make a transparency notice available to data subjects, describing in a clear and accessible manner, how personal data under this Annex may be processed by its customs authority, in its capacity as a transferring or receiving authority.

2. The transparency notice shall provide information on the purposes of processing, rights available to data subjects and procedures to exercise them, relevant safeguards, and any limitations or conditions applicable to such processing.

3. Each Party shall ensure that the transparency notice is published on an official government website and remains accessible to data subjects along with a copy of this Annex.

Article 3E.12
Time Limits

1. Subject to paragraph 2, each Party shall address and respond to a request from a data subject made in accordance with Article 3E.7 (Access) or Article 3E.8 (Rectification) no later than one month from the date it receives the request.

2. Each Party may further extend the period to respond to a request made pursuant to Article 3E.7 (Access) by up to 60 days, taking into account the complexity and number of requests. Each Party shall notify the relevant data subject of the extended response period within 30 days of the request.

Article 3E.13
Onward Disclosure and Transfer of Personal Data

1. Subject to paragraph 2, the receiving customs authority shall ensure that personal data received pursuant to Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations) is only disclosed and transferred to other national customs enforcement, regulatory or administrative authorities in that Party if:

   (a) it is disclosed and transferred for the purpose set out in paragraph 1 of Article 3E.3 (Purpose and Use Limitation); and

   (b) the recipient authority undertakes to comply with the safeguards set out in this Annex, including by providing the data subjects with the relevant protections and applicable measures.

2. In exceptional cases, the receiving customs authority may disclose and transfer personal data to other national customs enforcement, regulatory or administrative authorities without the undertakings set out in paragraph 1 provided that the disclosure or transfer of the personal data is for important reasons of public interest or necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal claim.

Article 3E.14
Administrative Redress

1. Each Party shall ensure that a data subject is entitled to administrative redress where the data subject believes that a request made in accordance with Article 3E.7 (Access) or Article 3E.8 (Rectification) has been improperly denied.

2. Each Party shall provide that a designated authority or person ("reviewer") reviews and, if appropriate, scrutinises any complaint raised by a data subject with a view to determining whether the processing of that data subject's personal data by the Party constitutes an infringement of that Party's laws and regulations or any of the requirements set out in this Annex.

3. Each Party shall provide that the reviewer may, where considered appropriate, inform the relevant data subject about the progress of their complaint. The reviewer shall formally respond to the complaint within 30 days of its receipt, or in exceptional cases, within 45 days.

4. Each Party shall provide that a formal written response setting out its determination and any recommendations relating to the matters raised includes details of the complaint escalation process, including judicial redress pursuant to Article 3E.15 (Judicial Redress), that the relevant data subject may pursue if they are not satisfied with the outcome of the handling by the reviewer.

Article 3E.15
Judicial Redress

1. Each Party shall ensure that if a data subject believes that that Party has failed to comply with the obligations set out in Articles 3E.7 (Access), 3E.8 (Restrictions) or 3E.14 (Administrative Redress), or believes that their personal data has been subject to a personal data breach, that data subject can seek judicial redress against that Party following that Party's domestic appeal and dispute resolution process as part of the data protection laws and regulations, as appropriate.

2. In the event of a dispute between a data subject and a Party, that Party shall inform the other Party of the dispute. If appropriate, the other Party shall cooperate in resolving the dispute.

3. Paragraphs 1 and 2 are without prejudice to any other judicial redress available with respect to the processing of a data subject's personal data under the law of the Party in which redress is required.

Article 3E.16
Joint Review

The Parties shall conduct periodic joint reviews of the policies and procedures that implement this Annex and their effectiveness through the Working Group on Rules of Origin.

Article 3E.17
Suspension

1. If the transferring Party considers that the receiving Party has materially breached this Annex and has sufficient evidence to support such determination, it may suspend, in whole or in part, the transfer of personal data pursuant to paragraphs 6 and 7 of Article 3.16 (Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment) and Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations) by written notification to the receiving Party through the Working Group on Rules of Origin.

2. Such suspension shall be limited to circumstances involving a serious or systemic failure by the receiving Party to comply with its obligations under this Annex. A suspension shall not be initiated in response to isolated or minor breaches that do not constitute a material failure to comply with this Annex, particularly where the receiving Party has taken prompt and appropriate remedial action to contain the breach and prevent its recurrence.

3. The transferring Party may only make a written notification as described in paragraph 1 where it deems the conditions set out in paragraph 2 have been met, and after the Parties have engaged in a reasonable period of consultation through the customs authorities without reaching a resolution.

4. The suspension shall take effect 20 days from the date of notification. Such suspension may be lifted by the transferring Party by written notification to the receiving Party. The suspension shall be lifted immediately on receipt of such notification. Any suspension under this Article shall be subject to a review by the Parties every 90 days.

5. Notwithstanding paragraphs 1 through 3, in the event of a material personal data breach, such as significant cyberattacks, physical security breaches or other serious incidents that compromise the integrity of the system or the personal data, the transferring Party may suspend transfers of personal data with immediate effect, taking into account the nature of the breach and risks to individuals. A suspension shall not be initiated in response to isolated or minor breaches, particularly where the receiving Party has taken prompt and appropriate remedial action to contain the breach and prevent its recurrence.

6. The receiving customs authority shall continue to accept origin declarations as applicable proofs of origin in accordance with Article 3.15 (Proof of Origin) in the event that data transfers to enable the authentication process pursuant to paragraphs 6 and 7 of Article 3.16 (Basis of a Claim for Preferential Tariff Treatment) and Annex 3D (Framework for the Authentication Process of Origin Declarations) are suspended under this Article.

7. Where a personal data breach occurs prior to the receipt by the receiving Party, including during transmission of personal data by the transferring Party, the transferring Party may suspend the transfer of personal data in accordance with paragraph 5. The Parties shall enter into consultations without delay to ensure that appropriate remedial measures are taken by the transferring Party to prevent recurrence. Where continued authentication of origin declarations is likely to be impacted by a suspension, the transferring Party shall, in consultation with and agreeable to the receiving Party, identify and implement suitable alternative mechanisms for data transfer within a reasonable period not exceeding three months. These mechanisms shall be subject to joint review every 90 days, with a view to restoring the normal process of data transfers as soon as practicable. Once the risk underlying the suspension has been addressed to the satisfaction of both Parties, the standard data transfer mechanism shall be reinstated without undue delay.

8. Notwithstanding any suspension of personal data transfers under paragraphs 1, 5 and 7, personal data falling within the scope of this Annex and transferred prior to its suspension shall continue to be processed in accordance with this Annex.

Article 3E.18
Notification

Each Party shall make reasonable efforts to notify the other Party regarding the adoption of laws or regulations that may materially affect the implementation of this Annex, as soon as practicable after such measures are adopted.

Article 4.4
Investigations

1. After receipt by a Party's investigating authority of a properly documented application for an anti-dumping or a countervailing investigation with respect to imports from the other Party, and before initiating an investigation, the Party shall provide written notification to the other Party of its receipt of the application.

2. Before initiating a countervailing investigation, a Party shall afford the other Party a meeting to consult with its investigating authority regarding the application.

3. The Parties reaffirm their rights and obligations under Articles 6.2 and 6.3 of the Anti-Dumping Agreement and Article 12.2 of the SCM Agreement, including with respect to the rights of interested parties to present information orally and to defend their interests in the conduct of an anti-dumping investigation or a countervailing duty investigation.

4. Notwithstanding paragraphs 2 and 3, nothing shall prevent the investigating authority from proceeding to initiate and conduct the investigation expeditiously.

5. A Party shall ensure, before a final determination is made, disclosure of the essential facts under consideration which form the basis for the decision whether to apply final measures. This is without prejudice to Article 6.5 of the Anti-Dumping Agreement and Article 12.4 of the SCM Agreement.

Article 4.5
Lesser Duty Rule and Public Interest Test

1. Should a Party decide to impose an anti-dumping duty pursuant to Article 9.1 of the Anti-Dumping Agreement, or countervailing duty pursuant to Article 19.2 of the SCM Agreement, it shall apply a duty less than the margin of dumping or subsidy margin, if such a lesser duty would be adequate to remove the injury to the domestic industry, in accordance with the Party's laws and regulations.

2. To the extent provided for under each Party's laws, regulations and procedures, an anti-dumping duty or a countervailing duty shall not be applied by a Party on the goods of the other Party if it is concluded that it is not in the public interest to apply the duty.

Section C
Global Safeguard Measures

Article 4.6
General Provisions and Transparency

1. The Parties affirm their rights and obligations concerning global safeguard measures under Article XIX of GATT 1994 and the Agreement on Safeguards.

2. A Party that initiates a safeguard investigatory process shall provide to the other Party an electronic copy of any notification given to the WTO Committee on Safeguards under Article 12.1 of the Agreement on Safeguards.

3. A Party adopting global safeguard measures shall endeavour to impose them in a manner least affecting bilateral trade.

Section D
Bilateral Safeguard Measures

Article 4.7
Application of a Bilateral Safeguard Measure

1. If, as a result of the elimination or reduction of a customs duty under this Agreement, an originating good from a Party is being imported into the territory of the other Party in such increased quantities, in absolute terms or relative to domestic production, and under such conditions as to cause or threaten to cause serious injury to a domestic industry, the other Party may adopt either of the bilateral measures provided for in paragraph 2.

2. If the conditions in paragraph 1 are met, the importing Party may apply one of the following bilateral safeguard measures:

   (a) suspension of the further reduction of the rate of customs duty on the good concerned provided for under this Agreement; or

   (b) increase in the rate of customs duty on the good concerned to a level which does not exceed the lesser of:

      (i) the most-favoured-nation applied rate of customs duty on the good in effect at the time the bilateral safeguard measure is applied; or

(ii) the most-favoured-nation applied rate of customs duty on the good in effect on the day immediately preceding the date of entry into force of this Agreement.

Article 4.8
Duration and Scope

1. A Party shall apply a bilateral safeguard measure to the extent and only for such period of time as may be necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury and to facilitate adjustment of the domestic industry.

2. The period of time referred to in paragraph 1 shall not exceed two years, except where the period may be extended for an additional period of no more than two years, provided that the investigating authority of the Party that applies the bilateral safeguard measure determines, in conformity with the procedures set out in Article 4.9 (Investigation Procedures) that the bilateral safeguard measure continues to be necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury and to facilitate adjustment, and provided that the total duration of the bilateral safeguard measure, including such extensions, does not exceed four years.

3. In order to facilitate adjustment in a situation where the expected duration of a bilateral safeguard measure exceeds one year, the Party that applies the bilateral safeguard measure shall progressively liberalise it at regular intervals during the period of application.

4. No bilateral safeguard measure shall be applied again to the import of an originating good that has previously been subject to such a bilateral safeguard measure for a period of time equal to the duration of the previous bilateral safeguard measure or one year since the expiry or termination of the previous bilateral safeguard measure, whichever is longer.

5. Notwithstanding paragraph 4, a bilateral safeguard measure with a duration of 180 days or less may be applied again to the import of an originating good if:

   (a) at least one year has elapsed since the date of introduction of a bilateral safeguard measure on the import of that good; and

   (b) a bilateral safeguard measure has not been applied on the same good more than twice in the five-year period immediately preceding the date of the first imposition of the bilateral safeguard measure.

6. When a Party ceases to apply a bilateral safeguard measure, the rate of customs duty shall be the rate that would have been in effect in accordance with the Party's Schedule to Annex 2A (Schedules of Tariff Commitments for Goods) but for the bilateral safeguard measure.

7. Neither Party shall apply or maintain a bilateral safeguard measure beyond the expiration of the transition period.

Investigation Procedures

1. A Party may apply a bilateral safeguard measure (other than on a provisional basis) only following an investigation by its investigating authority pursuant to the procedures set out in this Article. The investigation shall include reasonable public notice to all interested parties and public hearings or other appropriate means in which importers, exporters and other interested parties could present evidence and their views, including the opportunity to respond to the representations of other interested parties and to submit their views, among other things, as to whether or not the application of a bilateral safeguard measure would be in the public interest. The investigating authority shall publish a report setting forth its findings and reasoned conclusions reached on all pertinent issues of fact and law, including a detailed analysis of the case under investigation, as well as a demonstration of the relevance of factors examined in accordance with paragraph 2.

2. In the investigation to determine whether increased imports have caused or are threatening to cause serious injury to a domestic industry, the investigating authority shall evaluate all relevant factors of an objective and quantifiable nature having a bearing on the situation of the domestic industry, in particular, the rate and amount of the increase in imports of the good concerned in absolute and relative terms, the share of the domestic market taken by increased imports, and changes in the level of sales, production, productivity, capacity utilisation, profits and losses, and employment.

3. The determination referred to in paragraph 2 shall not be made unless the investigation demonstrates, on the basis of objective evidence, the existence of a causal link between increased imports of the good concerned and serious injury or threat thereof. Where factors other than increased imports are at the same time causing serious injury or threat thereof, such injury shall not be attributed to increased imports.

4. Any information which is by its nature confidential or which is provided on a confidential basis shall, upon cause being shown, be treated as such by the investigating authority. Such information shall not be disclosed without permission of the party submitting it. A party providing confidential information may be requested to furnish non-confidential summaries thereof or, if such parties indicate that such information cannot be summarised, the reasons why a summary cannot be provided. However, if the investigating authority finds that a request for confidentiality is not warranted and if the party concerned is either unwilling to make the information public or to authorise its disclosure in generalised or summary form, the investigating authority may disregard such information unless it can be demonstrated to their satisfaction from appropriate sources that the information is correct.

5. An investigation shall not exceed one year from the date of initiation, but a Party may, in exceptional circumstances, extend the investigation for no more than a further three months. A Party extending an investigation shall notify the other Party in writing of its intention to extend the investigation as soon as possible and, in any event, within one year of the date of initiation of the investigation.

Article 4.10
Notification and Consultation

1. A Party shall immediately provide written notice to the other Party upon:

   (a) initiating an investigation referred to in Article 4.9 (Investigation Procedures) relating to serious injury, or threat thereof, and the reasons for it;

   (b) making a finding of serious injury or threat thereof caused by increased imports of an originating good of the other Party as a result of the elimination or reduction of a customs duty in accordance with Article 4.7 (Application of a Bilateral Safeguard Measure);

   (c) taking a decision to apply or extend a bilateral safeguard measure; or

   (d) taking a decision to modify the bilateral safeguard measure for progressive liberalisation.

2. The Party proposing to apply a bilateral safeguard measure shall provide the other Party with all pertinent information which shall include:

   (a) in the written notice referred to in subparagraph 1(a), the reason for the initiation of the investigation, a precise description of the originating good subject to the investigation including its subheading of the Harmonized System (for indicative purposes only), the period subject to the investigation, and the date of initiation of the investigation; and

   (b) in the written notice referred to in subparagraphs 1(b) through (d), evidence of serious injury or threat thereof caused by the increased imports, precise description of the good subject to the proposed bilateral safeguard measure including its subheading of the Harmonized System (for indicative purposes only), and where applicable, the proposed date of introduction, the extension or modification of the bilateral safeguard measure, its expected duration, and the timetable for the progressive liberalisation of the bilateral safeguard measure provided for in paragraph 3 of Article 4.8 (Duration and Scope).

3. A Party initiating an investigation shall, after notifying the other Party in accordance with paragraph 1, consult with the other Party as far in advance of applying a bilateral safeguard measure as practicable, with a view to reviewing the information arising from the investigation and exchanging views on the bilateral safeguard measure.

Article 4.11
Provisional Bilateral Safeguard Measures

1. In critical circumstances where delay would cause damage that would be difficult to repair, a Party may apply a bilateral safeguard measure on a provisional basis without complying with the procedural requirements of Article 4.10 (Notification and Consultation), pursuant to a preliminary determination that there is clear evidence that imports of a good originating in the other Party have increased as the result of the elimination or reduction of a customs duty under this Agreement, and that such imports cause or threaten to cause serious injury to the domestic industry. The duration of any provisional bilateral safeguard measure shall not exceed 200 days, during which time the Party shall comply with the relevant procedural rules laid down in Article 4.9 (Investigation Procedures) such that its investigating authority carries out an investigation.

2. A Party shall make a notification to the other Party before taking a provisional bilateral safeguard measure referred to in paragraph 1.

3. Consultations between the Parties on the application of the provisional bilateral safeguard measure shall be initiated immediately after the provisional bilateral safeguard measure is applied.

4. The customs duty imposed as a result of the provisional bilateral safeguard measure shall be refunded if the subsequent investigation referred to in Article 4.9 (Investigation Procedures) does not determine that the requirements of paragraph 1 of Article 4.7 (Application of a Bilateral Safeguard Measure) are met.

5. The duration of any provisional bilateral safeguard measure shall be counted as part of the period described in paragraph 2 of Article 4.8 (Duration and Scope).

Article 4.12
Compensation

1. A Party applying a bilateral safeguard measure shall consult with the other Party in order to mutually agree on appropriate trade liberalising compensation in the form of concessions having substantially equivalent trade effect or equivalent to the value of the additional duties expected to result from the application of the bilateral safeguard measure. The Party applying the bilateral safeguard measure shall provide an opportunity for these consultations no later than 30 days after the application of the bilateral safeguard measure.

2. If the consultations under paragraph 1 do not result in an agreement on trade liberalising compensation within 30 days, the Party whose goods are subject to the bilateral safeguard measure may suspend the application of substantially equivalent concessions to the trade of the Party applying the bilateral safeguard measure. This action shall be applied only for the minimum period necessary to achieve the substantially equivalent effects.

3. The right to take action referred to in paragraph 2 shall not be exercised for the first two years that the bilateral safeguard measure is in effect.

4. The Party against whose good the bilateral safeguard measure is applied shall notify the Party applying the bilateral safeguard measure in writing at least 30 days before suspending concessions in accordance with paragraph 2.

5. The obligation to provide compensation under paragraph 1 and the right to suspend concessions under paragraph 2 terminate on the termination of the bilateral safeguard measure.

Article 4.13
Non-Application of Multiple Safeguard Measures

1. Neither Party shall apply, with respect to the same good, at the same time:

   (a) a bilateral safeguard measure in accordance with Section D (Bilateral Safeguard Measures); and

   (b) a measure under Article XIX of GATT 1994 and the Agreement on Safeguards.

CHAPTER 5
CUSTOMS AND TRADE FACILITATION

Article 5.1
Customs and Trade Facilitation

1. Each Party shall ensure that its customs laws, regulations, and procedures are applied in a manner that is consistent, transparent, and non-discriminatory.

2. The Parties affirm their rights and obligations under the Trade Facilitation Agreement.

3. Each Party shall endeavour to ensure that its import, export or transit formalities and procedures conform to international standards and recommended practices established by the World Customs Organization (the "WCO") and under other relevant international agreements to which the Parties are party.

4. Each Party shall adopt or maintain simplified customs procedures, as set out in Article 5.4 (Simplified Customs Procedures), and work towards further simplification of its customs procedures, including by conducting periodic reviews, in order to facilitate trade.

5. The Parties shall seek to reinforce their cooperation to promote trade facilitation while ensuring effective customs control.

Transparency and Publication

1. Each Party shall promptly publish online, in a non-discriminatory and easily accessible manner, and to the extent possible and practicable in the English language, its customs laws, regulations, and procedures, including:

   (a) hours of operation, and general operating procedures related to importation, exportation and transit, for customs offices at ports and border crossing points;

   (b) details of its enquiry points including points of contact and modes for making information enquiries;

   (c) its laws, regulations, and procedures for becoming a customs broker, for issuing customs broker licenses and regarding the use of customs brokers; and

   (d) provisions to correct or disclose an error in a customs transaction, including the information required and, if applicable, the circumstances when penalties will not be imposed.

2. Each Party shall, as appropriate, provide for regular consultations between its border agencies and traders or other stakeholders located within its territory.

3. Each Party shall, in a manner consistent with its law and legal system, ensure that new or amended customs laws and regulations are published online, or information on them made otherwise publicly available, as early as possible before their entry into force to enable traders and other interested parties to become acquainted with them.

4. Paragraph 3 shall not apply to:

   (a) changes to the rates of customs duties;

   (b) measures that have a relieving effect;

   (c) measures the effectiveness of which would be undermined as a result of compliance with paragraph 3;

   (d) measures applied in urgent circumstances; or

   (e) minor changes to a Party's law and legal system.

5. Each Party shall establish or maintain one or, if within its available resources, more enquiry points to address reasonable enquiries of interested parties or persons concerning customs matters.

6. Each Party shall endeavour not to require the payment of a fee for answering enquiries or providing required forms. If payment of a fee is required, the Party shall limit the amount of its fees and charges to the approximate cost of services rendered.

7. Each Party shall ensure that enquiry points answer enquiries and provide the forms and documents within a reasonable time period set by each Party, which may vary depending on the nature or complexity of the request.

Article 5.3
Data, Documentation and Automation

1. Each Party shall ensure, while maintaining appropriate customs controls, that data and documentation requirements are adopted or applied:

   (a) with the intention to facilitate a rapid release of goods; and

   (b) in a manner that aims to reduce the time and cost of compliance for traders and operators.

2. Each Party shall:

   (a) make electronic systems accessible to customs users, where appropriate and practicable, in an accessible format;

(b) allow a customs declaration to be submitted in electronic format;

(c) employ an electronic or automated risk management system;

(d) permit the electronic payment of duties, taxes, fees and charges collected by its customs authority and incurred upon importation and exportation;

(e) endeavour to implement common standards and elements for import and export data in accordance with the WCO Data Model;

(b) aggregated customs declarations for the payment of customs duties and taxes that may cover multiple imports.

4. The Parties shall cooperate on and consider, as appropriate, further measures to reduce the administrative burden for economic operators in relation to imports and exports.

Article 5.5
Release of Goods

1. Each Party shall:

(a) provide for goods to be released as rapidly as possible, endeavouring to release goods within 48 hours of arrival at the point of presentation to customs provided that:

2. Nothing in this Article shall require a Party to release a good if regulatory requirements for release have not been met.

3. If a Party allows for the release of goods conditional on a security, it shall adopt or maintain procedures that:

(a) ensure the amount of the security is no greater than that required to ensure that obligations arising from the importation of the goods will be fulfilled;

(c) allow importers to provide security using a form other than cash, where appropriate.

1. For the purposes of this Article, "perishable goods" means goods that rapidly decay due to their natural characteristics, in particular in the absence of appropriate storage conditions.

2. With a view to preventing avoidable loss or deterioration of perishable goods, each Party shall:

Article 5.7
Risk Management

1. Each Party shall adopt or maintain a risk management system using electronic data-processing and, where necessary, other techniques for customs control that enables its customs authority to focus its customs and other relevant border controls including its examination and inspection activities on high-risk consignments and expedite the release of low-risk consignments.

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, the adoption or maintenance of a risk management framework shall not prevent a party from using other techniques where necessary.

3. Each Party shall design and apply risk management so as to avoid arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination, or disguised restrictions to international trade.

4. Each Party shall base risk management on assessment of risk through appropriate selectivity criteria. Such selectivity criteria may include the HS Code, nature and description of the goods, country of origin, country from which the goods were shipped, value of the goods, compliance record of traders, and type of means of transport.

5. Each Party may also select, on a random basis, consignments for its customs and other relevant border controls including its examination and inspection activities referred to in paragraph 1 as part of its risk management.

6. In order to facilitate trade, each Party shall periodically review and update, if considered appropriate, the risk management system specified in paragraph 1.

1. Each Party shall establish or maintain a trade facilitation partnership programme for operators who meet specified criteria, hereinafter referred to as the Authorised Economic Operator ("AEO") programme, in accordance with the SAFE Framework of Standards to Secure and Facilitate Global Trade adopted at the June 2005 World Customs Organization Session in Brussels and as updated from time to time (the "SAFE Framework").

2. Each Party shall publish its specified criteria to qualify as an AEO. The specified criteria shall relate to compliance, or the risk of non-compliance, in accordance with requirements specified in the Party's customs laws, regulations and procedural requirements. The Parties may use the criteria set out in paragraph 7.2(a) of Article 7 of the Trade Facilitation Agreement.

4. The AEO programme shall include specific benefits for operators that meet the specified criteria, taking into account the commitments of each Party under paragraph 7.3 of Article 7 of the Trade Facilitation Agreement.

   (a) an administrative appeal to or review by an administrative authority independent of the official or office that issued the decision; and

   (b) a judicial appeal or review of the decision.

3. Notwithstanding paragraph 2, a Party may not provide an administrative appeal for a decision on an advance ruling under Article 5.8 (Advance Rulings).

4. Each Party shall provide that any person who has applied to a customs authority for a decision and has not obtained a decision on that application within the relevant time-limits where provided in its laws or regulations and in all other cases without undue delay shall be entitled to exercise right to either appeal to or review by the administrative authority or the judicial authority or any other recourse to the judicial authority.

5. Each Party shall provide a person to whom it issues a decision with the reasons for the decision.

2. Each Party is encouraged to require its customs authority, when imposing a penalty for a breach of its customs laws, regulations or procedural requirements, to consider as a potential mitigating factor the voluntary disclosure of the breach prior to its discovery by the customs authority.

3. Each Party shall ensure that, if a penalty is imposed for a breach of its customs laws, regulations or procedural requirements, an explanation in writing is provided to the person upon whom the penalty is imposed, specifying the nature of the breach and the applicable customs laws, regulations or procedural requirements under which the amount or range of penalty for the breach has been prescribed.

4. Each Party shall, where appropriate, provide in its laws, regulations or procedures, or otherwise give effect to, fixed and finite periods within which its customs authority may initiate proceedings to impose a penalty relating to a breach of customs laws, regulations or procedural requirements.

Article 5.13
Single Window[3]

1. Each Party shall introduce or maintain single window system enabling traders to submit documentation and any prescribed data requirements for the exportation and importation of goods through a single-entry point to the participating authorities or agencies.

2. Each Party shall, as required, continuously review the operations of its single window system with a view to expanding or improving its functionality to cover all its import and export transactions and shall endeavour to include documentation and any data requirements for the transit of goods within the single window system.

[3] For the purposes of Article 5.13, for the United Kingdom, the Bailiwicks of Guernsey and Jersey may introduce or maintain their own respective single window system.

3. If a Party receives documentation or data for a good or shipment of goods through its single window system, that Party shall not request the same documentation or data for that good or shipment of goods, except in urgent circumstances or pursuant to other limited exceptions set out in its law or procedural requirements. Each Party shall minimise, to the extent possible, the requirement for paper documents if electronic copies are provided and use information technology to support the single window system.

4. Each Party shall endeavour to include in its single window system's functionality the ability to inform a person using its single window system of the results of the examination of the documentation and any data by the participating authorities or agencies and status of the release of goods in a timely manner.

5. In building and maintaining its single window system, each Party shall:

   (a) incorporate, as considered appropriate, the WCO Data Model for data elements;

   (b) take into account, as appropriate, standards, recommendations, models and methods developed by various international organisations such as the WCO, UNCEFACT and the WTO; and

   (c) ensure the cooperation and coordination between all concerned authorities and agencies in their respective territories to facilitate traffic in transit, in accordance with its laws and regulations; and

   (d) allow goods intended for import to be moved within its territory under customs control from a customs office of entry to another customs office in its territory from where the goods would be released or cleared.

Article 5.15

Article 5.17

1. Each Party shall maintain, in conformity with its law, the confidentiality of all information collected as part of its customs processes and shall protect that information from use or disclosure that could prejudice the competitive position of the trader to whom the confidential information relates.

2. Each Party shall ensure that the information collected as part of its customs processes shall be used or disclosed solely for the administration and enforcement of customs matters, including in any proceedings before courts or tribunals for failure to comply with customs laws, or as otherwise authorised or required under the Party’s law.

3. The Parties shall communicate to each other information on their applicable laws and regulations.

Article 5.18
Customs and Trade Facilitation Working Group

1. The Parties hereby establish a Working Group on Customs and Trade Facilitation ("CTF Working Group") composed of government representatives of each Party responsible for customs and trade facilitation matters to consider any matters arising under this Chapter.

   (a) cooperating in the administration and uniform interpretation of this Chapter;

   (b) monitoring the effective operation and implementation of this Chapter, including the transparent and consistent application of customs procedures of the Parties and the procedures listed at subparagraph 1(a) of Article 5.5 (Release of Goods) and subparagraph 2(a) of Article 5.6 (Perishable Goods);

CHAPTER 6
SANITARY AND PHYTOSANITARY MEASURES

Article 6.1
Definition

1. For the purposes of this Chapter:

"competent authorities" means those authorities within each Party recognised by the national government as responsible for developing, implementing and administering the sanitary and phytosanitary measures within that Party;

"emergency measure" means a sanitary or phytosanitary measure that is applied by the importing Party to the exporting Party to address an urgent problem of human, animal or plant life or health protection that arises or threatens to arise in the Party applying the measure;

"relevant international organisations" means organisations referred to in paragraph 3 of Annex A to the SPS Agreement; and

"SPS Subcommittee" means the Subcommittee on Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures established under paragraph 1 of Article 6.16 (SPS Subcommittee).

2. For the purposes of this Chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

   (a) the definitions in Annex A to the SPS Agreement;

   (b) the definitions adopted under the auspices of the Codex Alimentarius Commission (the "Codex");

   (c) the definitions adopted under the auspices of the World Organisation for Animal Health (the "WOAH"); and

   (d) the definitions adopted under the auspices of the International Plant Protection Convention (the "IPPC").

3. Further to paragraph 2, in the event of an inconsistency between the definitions set out in the SPS Agreement and the definitions adopted under the auspices of the Codex, the WOAH and the IPPC, the definitions set out in the SPS Agreement shall prevail.

Article 6.2
Objectives

1. The objectives of this Chapter are to:

(a) protect human, animal and plant life and health in the territory of the Parties while facilitating trade between them;

(b) ensure that the Parties' sanitary and phytosanitary measures do not create unjustified barriers to trade;

(c) reinforce and support the implementation of the SPS Agreement, and promote the implementation of the relevant international standards, guidelines, and recommendations;

(d) ensure greater transparency and understanding on the application of each Party's sanitary and phytosanitary measures;

(e) strengthen communication and cooperation on relevant sanitary and phytosanitary issues;

(f) promote resolution of sanitary and phytosanitary issues that may affect trade between the Parties;

(g) enhance cooperation in the relevant international organisations to develop international standards, guidelines, and recommendations on animal health, food safety and plant health; and

(h) enhance cooperation between the Parties in areas of mutual interest in the field of animal welfare and antimicrobial resistance.

Scope

1. This Chapter shall apply to all sanitary and phytosanitary measures of a Party that may, directly or indirectly, affect trade between the Parties.

2. This Chapter also includes separate provisions regarding animal welfare and antimicrobial resistance.

Article 6.4
Rights and Obligations

1. The Parties affirm their rights and obligations under the SPS Agreement.

2. Nothing in this Agreement shall affect the rights and obligations of each Party under the SPS Agreement.

Article 6.5
Adaptation to Regional Conditions, including Pest- or Disease-Free Areas and Areas of Low Pest or Disease Prevalence

1. The Parties acknowledge that adaptation of sanitary and phytosanitary measures to recognise regional conditions, including through the application of concepts such as pest-free or disease-free areas, areas of low pest or low disease prevalence, zoning, compartmentalisation, pest-free places of production, and pest-free production sites, is an important means of facilitating trade. Each Party shall ensure that its sanitary and phytosanitary measures are adapted to regional conditions in accordance with the SPS Agreement.

2. Each Party shall take into account relevant international standards, guidelines and recommendations, and relevant guidance of the WTO SPS Committee, when making determinations related to regional conditions.

3. The Parties shall cooperate on the recognition of regional conditions with the objective of acquiring confidence in the procedures followed by each Party for the recognition of regional conditions. In doing so, the Parties shall promote information sharing in this area and on related matters.

4. On request of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall, without undue delay, explain its process and plan for making the determination of regional conditions.

5. When making an assessment of the regional conditions established by the exporting Party, the importing Party shall base its own determination of the animal and plant health status of the exporting Party or parts thereof, on the information provided by the exporting Party in accordance with the SPS Agreement and relevant international standards, guidelines, and recommendations.

6. With regard to animals and animal products, when establishing or maintaining sanitary measures upon request of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall take into consideration the disease-free areas, areas of low disease prevalence, zones and compartments established by the exporting Party in making a determination to allow or maintain the import. The importing Party shall also consider any relevant official disease status recognised by the WOAH when making its determination. If requested by the importing Party, the exporting Party shall provide an explanation and supporting data for the basis of these regional conditions, based on the WOAH standards, or in other ways as deemed appropriate by the Parties, based on the knowledge acquired through experience of the exporting Party's relevant authorities.

7. With regard to plants, plant products and other related objects, when establishing or maintaining phytosanitary import conditions upon request of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall take into consideration regional conditions in the exporting Party, including pest-free areas, pest-free places of production, pest-free production sites, and areas of low pest prevalence established by the exporting Party in making a determination to allow or maintain the import, and where this information is provided to the importing Party. If requested by the importing Party, the exporting Party shall provide an explanation and supporting data for the basis of these regional conditions, based on the relevant IPPC standards or in other ways as agreed by the Parties, based on the knowledge acquired through experience of the exporting Party's relevant authorities.

8. If the importing Party determines that the information provided by the exporting Party in its request is sufficient, it shall initiate an assessment and make a decision as to whether it can accept the exporting Party's determination of regional conditions, within a reasonable period of time.

9. On request of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall inform the exporting Party of the status of the assessment.

10. If the importing Party has accepted the exporting Party's determination of regional conditions, the exporting Party shall notify the importing Party of any modification to those regional conditions. Following any such notification, the importing Party shall continue to accept the exporting Party's determination of regional conditions and allow trade to continue, provided that the importing Party is satisfied that its appropriate level of protection will be maintained.

11. If the importing Party adopts a measure that recognises specific regional conditions of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall implement the measure as soon as possible, and inform the exporting Party of the outcome and when trade can commence without undue delay.

12. If the importing Party decides not to recognise the regional conditions of the exporting Party, it shall provide the exporting Party with the rationale for its determination and, to the extent practicable, indicate the required conditions for which the process referred to in paragraphs 4 through 10 may be reinitiated. Upon request, the importing Party shall hold consultations with the exporting Party, within a reasonable period of time.

13. If there are circumstances that result in the importing Party modifying or revoking a decision recognising the regional conditions of the exporting Party, the Parties shall cooperate to assess whether the determination can be reinstated.

Article 6.6
Equivalence

1. The Parties acknowledge that recognition of equivalence of sanitary and phytosanitary measures is an important means of facilitating trade. In determining equivalence of an individual measure, group of measures, or measures on a systems-wide basis, each Party shall consider the relevant guidance of the WTO SPS Committee and relevant international standards, guidelines, and recommendations.

2. The importing Party shall recognise the equivalence of sanitary or phytosanitary measures, even if the measures differ from its own, if the exporting Party objectively demonstrates to the importing Party that the exporting Party's measures achieve the importing Party's appropriate level of protection.

3. In determining equivalence, the importing Party shall take into account available relevant knowledge, information, and experience as well as the regulatory competence of the exporting Party.

4. A Party shall, upon request from the other Party, enter into bilateral consultations with the aim of achieving recognition of equivalence of an individual measure, group of measures, or measures on a systems-wide basis. For this purpose, reasonable access shall be given, upon request, to the importing Party for inspection, testing and other relevant procedures.

5. As a part of such consultations on request by the exporting Party, the importing Party shall explain and provide within a reasonable period of time:

   (a) the rationale and objective of its measures; and

   (b) the specific risks its measures are intended to address.

6. The exporting Party shall provide necessary information in order for the importing Party to commence an equivalence assessment. Once the importing Party determines that the information provided by the exporting Party is sufficient, it shall commence the assessment within a reasonable period of time. The importing Party shall, upon request, explain the process and plan for making an equivalence determination, without undue delay.

7. The consideration by a Party of a request from the other Party for recognition of equivalence of its measures for a specific product, or group of products, shall not be in and of itself a reason to disrupt or suspend ongoing imports from the Party of the product or products in question, provided that the importing Party's appropriate level of protection continues to be met.

8. When the importing Party has concluded its assessment, it shall notify the equivalence determination to the exporting Party, within a reasonable period of time and in writing. If an equivalence determination results in recognition by the importing Party, the importing Party shall implement a measure recognising equivalence within a reasonable period of time. If an equivalence determination does not result in recognition by the importing Party, the importing Party shall provide the exporting Party with the rationale for its decision.

9. If a Party proposes to modify, amend, repeal, or remove a sanitary or phytosanitary measure which is the subject of an equivalence arrangement between the Parties, it shall notify the other Party and indicate its likely effect on recognition of equivalence. Following such notification, the importing Party shall continue to apply its determination of equivalence unless its appropriate level of protection is not met. The Parties may use the SPS Subcommittee as a forum for further engagement on processes for possible withdrawal and reinstatement of recognition of equivalence measures.

10. Compliance of a product with sanitary or phytosanitary measures that have been accepted as equivalent to sanitary or phytosanitary measures of the other Party, shall not remove the need for that product to comply with any other relevant mandatory requirements.

11. The final determination of equivalence, and any subsequent withdrawal or suspension of equivalence, rests with the importing Party, acting in accordance with its administrative and legislative framework, taking into account international standards, guidelines, and recommendations.

Article 6.7
Import Conditions

1. Without prejudice to the rights and obligations of each Party under the SPS Agreement and this Chapter, the import conditions of the importing Party shall apply to the entire territory of the exporting Party in a consistent manner.

2. With regard to import conditions for animals, animal products, plants, plant products, and other related objects, each Party, in accordance with Article 3 of the SPS Agreement, shall set out its import conditions for animals, animal products, plants, plant products and other related objects, based upon the principles set out in the relevant standards, guidelines, and recommendations developed under the relevant international organisations. The Parties shall also take into account the decisions and recommendations of the WTO SPS Committee, when setting out those import conditions.

3. The importing Party shall make publicly available its general sanitary and phytosanitary import conditions related to goods.

4. The importing Party shall endeavour, within 30 days of receipt of a reasonable request from the exporting Party, to make available to the exporting Party all sanitary or phytosanitary import conditions relating to the import of specific goods.

5. Paragraph 4 shall not apply if the information requested by the exporting Party is publicly available.

6. For the purposes of establishing the specific sanitary or phytosanitary import conditions, the exporting Party shall, on request of the importing Party:

   (a) provide all relevant available information required by the importing Party; and

   (b) give reasonable access to the importing Party to conduct audits of the relevant procedures undertaken by the exporting Party, in accordance with Article 6.8 (Audit).

7. Each Party shall ensure that all sanitary and phytosanitary control, inspection, assessment and approval procedures, including if needed audits, are undertaken and completed without undue delay to authorise a good for import. Each Party shall avoid unnecessary or unduly burdensome information requests and take into account information already available to the importing Party, such as information related to the legislative framework and audit reports of the exporting Party.

8. Subject to its laws and regulations, if a risk assessment is required in the process of determining import conditions, a Party shall, upon request, provide the other Party with the outcomes of that risk assessment, within a reasonable period of time of the risk assessment being finalised.

9. Without prejudice to Article 6.8 (Audit), Article 6.10 (Import Checks), and Article 6.11 (Emergency Measures), and in accordance with its laws and regulations or as otherwise agreed between the Parties, upon request of the exporting Party, the importing Party shall approve an establishment or facility situated in the territory of the exporting Party without prior inspection if the importing Party has:

   (a) received all relevant information, including, if necessary, appropriate assurances from the competent authorities of the exporting Party; and

   (b) determined that the establishment or facility meets its relevant sanitary and phytosanitary requirements.

   The competent authority of the importing Party may suspend or withdraw the approval of the establishment or facility if it no longer meets its relevant sanitary and phytosanitary requirements.

10. On approval of an establishment or facility of the exporting Party under paragraph 9, the importing Party shall take necessary measures to allow imports from such establishments or facilities without undue delay.

11. If an approval is suspended or withdrawn by the competent authorities of the importing Party, both the Parties shall consult with an aim to once again reinstate the approval of the relevant establishment or facility of the exporting Party.

12. Without prejudice to Article 6.11 (Emergency Measures), the importing Party shall not refuse or prevent the importation of a good of the exporting Party solely for the reason that it is undertaking a review of its sanitary or phytosanitary measure, if the importing Party permitted the importation of that good of the exporting Party when the review was initiated.

Article 6.8
Audit

1. For the purposes of attaining and maintaining confidence in the exporting Party's regulatory control programme, and to comply with the sanitary and phytosanitary import conditions and related control measures of the importing Party, the importing Party shall have the right to carry out an audit of all or part of the regulatory control programme of the exporting Party's competent authority.[1]

2. Each Party shall assist the other to carry out audit procedures.

3. Prior to the commencement of an audit, the competent authorities of the Parties shall discuss the rationale for the audit and shall endeavour to agree on the objectives and scope of the audit, the criteria or requirements against which the exporting Party will be assessed, and any other relevant matters.

4. The Parties shall carry out those audits in accordance with the provisions of the SPS Agreement, taking into account the relevant guidance of the WTO SPS Committee and the relevant international standards, guidelines, and recommendations.

5. Each Party shall endeavour to limit the frequency and number of audit visits. Only in justified circumstances shall the importing Party carry out a subsequent audit related to the same product, and in those circumstances, the importing Party shall provide the exporting Party with an explanation as to the reason for the audit.

6. The importing Party may appoint a governmental body, in accordance with the relevant international standards, guidelines, and recommendations, to carry out all or part of an audit on its behalf.

7. The importing Party shall provide the exporting Party with the opportunity to comment in writing on the findings of an audit. The importing Party shall take these comments into account before reaching its conclusions and taking any action thereon. The importing Party shall, within a reasonable period of time, provide the exporting Party with a written report setting out its conclusions.

8. Measures taken by the importing Party as a consequence of its audit shall be proportionate to the risk identified and supported by objective evidence, taking into account the importing Party's knowledge of, relevant experience with, and confidence in the exporting Party, and shall not be more trade restrictive than necessary to achieve the importing Party's appropriate level of protection. Nothing in this paragraph prevents a Party from taking an emergency measure consistent with Article 6.11 (Emergency Measures).

9. The costs for an audit shall be borne by the importing Party unless the Parties agree otherwise.

10. The Parties shall:

    (a) each ensure, in accordance with its respective laws and regulations, that procedures are in place to prevent the disclosure of confidential information that is acquired during the audit process; and

[1] For greater certainty, for the purposes of this Chapter, an audit may include desk assessment and virtual, remote, or physical audits.

(b) jointly determine how and to whom a report is made available.

2. The Parties may agree to specify or implement further guidance, procedures, and requirements in relation to export certification.

3. The Parties shall encourage the implementation of electronic certification and other technologies to facilitate trade, as appropriate.

4. If a Party requires import certification, it shall ensure the sanitary or phytosanitary requirement for certification is applied only to the extent necessary to meet its appropriate level of protection.

5. Without prejudice to each Party's right to check and ensure the fulfilment of its import conditions, the importing Party shall accept certificates issued by the exporting Party in compliance with the regulatory requirements of the importing Party.

Article 6.10

These checks shall be carried out without undue delay and with minimising trade disrupting effects. Each Party shall ensure that its control, inspection and approval procedures are in accordance with Annex C to the SPS Agreement.

2. If import checks reveal non-compliance with the relevant import conditions, the action taken by the importing Party shall be based on an assessment of the risk involved, and not be more trade-restrictive than required to achieve the Party's appropriate level of protection. The import checks shall be based on the following:

   (a) in carrying out physical sanitary and phytosanitary import checks, where sampling takes place, the importing Party shall ensure that plants and plant products, animal products and other goods and their packaging are sampled in a representative manner; and

   (b) unless there is an identified risk, the importing Party shall, in accordance with its domestic administrative and legislative framework, provide the opportunity for the exporter or its authorised representative to take back the consignment, where reasonably practicable.

3. The importing Party shall notify the importer or its representative, of a non-compliant consignment and of the reason for non-compliance and shall endeavour, subject to its domestic laws and regulations, to provide them with an opportunity for a review of the decision. If a review is undertaken, the importing Party shall consider any relevant information submitted to assist it in the review, and it shall carry out the review within a reasonable period of time.

4. The Parties reaffirm Article V of GATT 1994 and agree that there shall be freedom of transit for goods in transit.

The Parties shall endeavour to hold technical consultations within 14 days of the receipt of the request, and in any case, the Parties shall hold the consultations as soon as possible following receipt of the request. The Party that adopts the emergency measure shall take into consideration any information provided by the other Party in response to the notification and during technical consultations. These technical consultations shall be carried out in order to avoid unnecessary disruptions to trade and the Parties may consider options for the facilitation of the implementation of the measures.

3. If a consignment is being transported between the Parties at the time of the adoption of the emergency measure, the importing Party shall, when it makes its decision for that consignment, consider any information that has been promptly provided by the exporting Party. The importing Party shall consider the most suitable and proportionate solution to avoid unnecessary disruptions to trade.

4. The importing Party shall ensure that any emergency measure taken on the grounds referred to in paragraph 1 is in accordance with the SPS Agreement.

5. If a Party adopts an emergency measure, it shall commence a science-based review of the measure within a reasonable period of time. The Party shall then review the need for the emergency measure as required, and if it remains in place provide, on request, the justification for maintaining the emergency measure. If the exporting Party considers, on the basis of scientific evidence, that an emergency measure is being maintained by the importing Party without justification, it may provide that evidence to the other Party and request the other Party to review the measure or engage in technical consultations under Article 6.14 (Technical Consultations).

Article 6.12

3. Each Party acknowledges that the threat of antimicrobial resistance requires developing and implementing a National Action Plan in line with the Global Action Plan on Antimicrobial Resistance.

4. The Parties shall endeavour to cooperate on areas of mutual interest in antimicrobial resistance and exchange their experiences, relevant information, expertise and data with each other.

5. The Parties affirm the right of each Party to set its policies, needs, and priorities on antimicrobial resistance specific to their own sensitivities and to adopt or modify its laws, regulations, and policies in this area, informed by the global effect of antimicrobial resistance.

4. If the Parties have already resorted to other mechanisms than those referred to in this Article to address the concerns, they shall continue to make use of them to avoid unnecessary duplication. A Party may request technical consultations to address these concerns, in accordance with paragraph 1, if such other mechanisms do not result in a mutually satisfactory resolution, including if it is not practicable to make use of those mechanisms within a reasonable period of time.

Article 7.2
Objective

The objective of this Chapter is to facilitate trade, including by eliminating unnecessary technical barriers to trade, enhancing transparency, facilitating information exchange, and promoting cooperation.

2. Each Party shall take such reasonable measures as may be available to it to ensure compliance with this Chapter by regional level of government bodies within its territory, which are responsible for the preparation, adoption, and application of technical regulations, standards, and conformity assessment procedures.

3. All references in this Chapter to technical regulations, standards, and conformity assessment procedures shall be construed to include any amendments to them and any addition to the rules or the product coverage of those technical regulations, standards, and procedures except amendments and additions of an insignificant nature.

4. This Chapter shall not apply to:

   (a) purchasing specifications prepared by a governmental body for production or consumption requirements of a governmental body; or accordance with its rights and obligations under this Agreement and the TBT Agreement.

Affirmation of the TBT Agreement

The Parties affirm their rights and obligations under the TBT Agreement.

Article 7.5
Standards, Guides, and Recommendations

1. The Parties recognise the important role that international standards, guides, and recommendations can play in supporting greater harmonisation of technical regulations, conformity assessment procedures, and national standards and in reducing unnecessary barriers to trade.

2. To determine whether there is an international standard, guide, or recommendation within the meaning of Articles 2 and 5 and Annex 3 of the TBT Agreement, each Party shall apply the relevant definitions as they are set out and referred to in Annex 1 to the TBT Agreement and shall take into account the Decision of the TBT Committee on Principles for the Development of International Standards, Guides and Recommendations with relation to Articles 2, 5 and Annex 3 of the Agreement.

3. When developing technical regulations or conformity assessment procedures each Party shall:

   (a) use relevant international standards, guides, or recommendations, or relevant parts of them, to the extent provided for in paragraph 4 of Article 2 and in paragraph 4 of Article 5 of the TBT Agreement, as the basis for its technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures; and

   (b) avoid deviation from the relevant international standards, guides or recommendations, or the introduction of additional requirements when compared to those standards, guides, or recommendations, except where it considers that such international standards, guides, or recommendations would be ineffective or inappropriate for the fulfilment of the legitimate objectives pursued, as referred to in Article 2.2 and in Article 5.4 of the TBT Agreement.

4. Where a Party does not use relevant international standards, guides or recommendations, or the relevant parts of them, as referred to in paragraph 3, that Party shall, on request from the other Party:

   (a) explain the reasons; and

(b) provide the available information on which this assessment is based.

5. To facilitate an appropriate explanation under paragraph 4, the requesting Party shall ensure that its request for an explanation:

(a) identifies a relevant international standard, guide, or recommendation that the Party has not used as a basis for its technical regulation or conformity assessment procedures; and

(b) describes how the technical regulation or conformity assessment procedures that is not based on the international standard, guide, or recommendation is a restriction, or has the potential to restrict, trade between the Parties.

6. With a view to encouraging the development of international standards, guides, and recommendations that do not create unnecessary obstacles to trade, each Party shall encourage national standards bodies within its territory to cooperate with the national standards bodies in the territory of the other Party.

7. The Parties shall exchange available information on:

(a) each Party's use of standards in technical regulations;

(b) the standard setting processes; and

(c) cooperation agreements or arrangements on standardisation with third parties or international organisations subject to any confidentiality obligations under those agreements or arrangements.

8. Each Party shall encourage national standards bodies within its territory to make standards and the standards development process gender responsive in line with the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) Declaration for Gender Responsive Standards and Standards Development approved at the 28th Annual Session of the UNECE Working Party on Regulatory Cooperation and Standardization Policies on 15 November 2018.

Article 7.6
Technical Regulations

1. Each Party shall give positive consideration to accepting, as equivalent, technical regulations of the other Party, even if these regulations differ from its own, provided it is satisfied that these regulations adequately fulfil the objectives of its own regulations.

2. In addition to Article 2.7 of the TBT Agreement, a Party shall, on request of the other Party,[1] provide the reasons why it has not or cannot accept a technical regulation of that Party as equivalent to its own. The Party to which the request is made should provide its response to the other Party within a reasonable period of time.

3. Upon request of a Party that has an interest in developing a technical regulation similar to a technical regulation of the other Party, the requested Party shall endeavour to provide, to the extent practicable, relevant information, including any studies or documents, except for confidential information, on which it has relied in its development of that regulation.

Article 7.7
Conformity Assessment[2]

1. Where a Party requires that conformity assessment procedures in relation to specific products are performed by specified government authorities of the Party, the Party conducting the conformity assessment procedures shall:

   (a) ensure the conformity assessment fee takes into account the cost of the services rendered; and

   (b) make information on the conformity assessment fees publicly available.

2. Where a Party requires a conformity assessment as a positive assurance that a product conforms with a technical regulation, it shall:

   (a) select conformity assessment procedures that take into account the risks of nonconformity;

   (b) consider, as appropriate, as proof of compliance with technical regulations, the use of a supplier's declaration of conformity; and

   (c) where requested by the other Party, consider, if feasible, providing information on the criteria used to select the conformity assessment procedures for specific products.

3. The Parties recognise the advantages of enabling conformity assessment procedures to be carried out online where applicable and reasonably practicable. Where a Party does not allow a conformity assessment procedure to be carried out online, it shall, on request of the other Party, share its reasons.

4. In cases where a positive assurance is required that a product conforms with technical regulations or standards, and relevant international standards, guides or recommendations issued by international standardising bodies exist or their completion is imminent, each Party shall ensure that central level of government bodies use them, or the relevant parts of them, as a basis for their conformity assessment procedures, except where, as duly explained upon request by the other Party, such international standards, guides or recommendations, or relevant parts are inappropriate for the Party concerned, for, amongst other things, reasons such as: national security requirements; the prevention of deceptive practices; protection of human health or safety, animal or plant life or health, or the environment; fundamental climatic or other geographical factors; or fundamental technological or infrastructural problems.

5. Procedures for assessment of conformity by central level of government bodies of each Party shall be in accordance with Article 5 of the TBT Agreement.

6. Further to Articles 6.1 and 6.3 of the TBT Agreement, a Party shall ensure, whenever possible, that results of the conformity assessment procedures in the other Party are accepted, even when those procedures differ from its own, provided it is satisfied that those procedures offer an assurance of conformity with applicable technical regulations or standards equivalent to its own procedures.[3] A Party shall, upon request of the other Party, explain its reasons for not accepting the results of a conformity assessment procedure conducted in the other Party.

7. The Parties recognise that a broad range of mechanisms exist to facilitate the acceptance in a Party's territory of the results of conformity assessment procedures conducted in the other Party's territory. For example:

   (a) a Party may agree with the other Party to accept the results of conformity assessment procedures that conformity assessment bodies located in the other Party's territory conduct for specific technical regulations;

   (b) a Party may adopt accreditation procedures for qualifying conformity assessment bodies located in the other Party's territory;

   (c) a Party may recognise the results of conformity assessment procedures conducted in the other Party's territory;

   (d) conformity assessment bodies located in the territory of either Party may enter into voluntary arrangements to accept the results of each other's assessment procedures; and

   (e) the importing Party may rely on a supplier's declaration of conformity.

8. The Parties shall exchange information on the range of mechanisms relevant to conformity assessment procedures in their respective territories with a view to facilitating the acceptance of conformity assessment results.

9. A Party shall, if it considers appropriate and in accordance with its laws and regulations, permit participation of conformity assessment bodies which are located in the territory of the other Party, in its conformity assessment procedures for the sectors set out in Annex 7A (Product Sectors), under conditions no less favourable than those accorded to conformity assessment bodies located in the territory of the permitting Party.

[3] For greater certainty, it is recognised that prior consultations may be necessary in order to arrive at a mutually satisfactory understanding.

10. Where a Party permits participation of its conformity assessment bodies and does not permit participation of conformity assessment bodies of the other Party in its conformity assessment procedures as referred to in paragraph 9, it shall, upon reasonable written request of the other Party, explain the reason for its refusal in writing.

11. The Parties recognise the important role that relevant regional or international organisations can play in cooperation in the area of conformity assessment. In this regard, each Party shall take into consideration the participation status or membership in such organisations of relevant bodies in the Parties in facilitating this cooperation.

12. The Parties shall encourage cooperation between their relevant conformity assessment bodies in working closer on matters such as the acceptance of conformity assessment results between Parties.

13. The Parties shall exchange information on accreditation policy and promote the use of accreditation to facilitate acceptance of conformity assessment results and consider how to make best use of international standards for accreditation and international agreements involving the Parties' accreditation bodies, for example, through the International Laboratory Accreditation Cooperation Mutual Recognition Arrangement or the International Accreditation Forum Multilateral Arrangement. Each Party shall use accreditation with authority derived from its government or performed by its government, as appropriate, as a means to demonstrate the technical competence of a conformity assessment body.

Article 7.8
Marking and Labelling

1. Each Party shall ensure that its technical regulations concerning product marking and labelling:

   (a) accord treatment no less favourable than that accorded to like goods of national origin; and

   (b) do not create unnecessary obstacles to trade between the Parties.

2. In particular, if a Party requires marking or labelling of a product in the form of a technical regulation:

   (a) the Party shall accept that labelling and corrections to labelling may take place in custom warehouses or other designated areas in the country of import, subject to its relevant laws, regulations, and customs procedures, as an alternative to labelling and corrections to labelling in the country of origin, unless such labelling and corrections to labelling are required to be carried out by approved persons for reasons of public health or safety;

(b) the Party shall, unless it considers that legitimate objectives under the TBT Agreement are compromised thereby, endeavour to accept supplementary, non-permanent, or detachable labels, or marking or labelling in the accompanying documentation rather than physically attached to the product; and

(c) provided that it is not misleading, contradictory, inconsistent or confusing, or that the Party's legitimate objectives are not compromised, the importing Party shall permit the following in relation to the information it requires:

(i) information in other languages in addition to the language required in the Party;

(ii) internationally accepted nomenclatures, pictograms, symbols, or graphics in addition to those required in the Party; and

(iii) additional information to that required in the Party.

3. A Party shall, where feasible, not require any prior approval, registration or certification of markings or the labels of products as a precondition for placing on its market products that otherwise comply with its mandatory technical requirements, unless necessary to fulfil its legitimate objectives.

Article 7.9
Transparency

1. The Parties recognise the importance of the provisions relating to transparency in the TBT Agreement. In this respect, the Parties shall take into account the relevant Decisions and Recommendations adopted by the WTO Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade Since 1 January 1995 (G/TBT/1/Rev.13), as may be revised, issued by the WTO Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade.

2. Upon request, a Party shall provide, if already available, the full text or summary of its notified technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures in English. If unavailable, the Party shall provide a summary stating the requirements of the notified technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures to the requesting Party in English within a reasonable period of time agreed between the Parties and, if possible, no later than 30 days after receiving the written request. In implementing the preceding sentence, the contents of the summary shall be determined by the responding Party.

3. Unless otherwise provided for in this Chapter, any information or explanation requested by a Party pursuant to this Chapter shall be provided by the other Party in English, in print or electronically, within a reasonable period of time mutually agreed by the Parties and, if possible, within 60 days of the request.

4. Each Party shall allow persons of the other Party to participate in the consultation procedures which are available to the general public for the development of technical regulations, national standards and conformity assessment procedures, subject to its laws and regulations or administrative arrangements on terms no less favourable than those accorded to its own persons.

5. A Party making a notification in accordance with Article 2.9.2 or Article 5.6.2 of the TBT Agreement shall include in the notification a statement describing the objective of the proposal and the rationale for the approach the Party is proposing.

6. Each Party shall normally allow 60 days from the date of notification to the WTO in accordance with Articles 2.9 and 5.6 of the TBT Agreement for the other Party to make comments in writing, except where urgent problems of safety, health, environmental protection, or national security arise or threaten to arise. A Party shall give positive consideration to a reasonable request from the other Party to extend the comment period.

7. Each Party shall take the comments of the other Party into account and shall endeavour to provide a response to these comments upon request of the other Party.

8. Upon request of the other Party, a Party shall provide the other Party with information regarding the objective of, and rationale for, a technical regulation or conformity assessment procedure that the Party has adopted or is proposing to adopt.

9. Each Party shall consider methods to provide additional transparency in the development of technical regulations, standards and conformity assessment procedures, including through the use of electronic tools and public outreach or consultations.

10. Each Party shall publish, preferably by electronic means, in at least one official journal or website, all proposals for new technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures and proposals for amendments to existing technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, and all new final technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures and final amendments to existing technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, of central level of government bodies, that a Party is required to notify or publish under the TBT Agreement or this Chapter, and that may have a significant effect on trade.[4] These publications shall be made available in English.

11. Each Party shall take such reasonable measures as may be available to it to ensure that, all proposals for new technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, and proposals for amendments to existing technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, and all new final technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, and final amendments to existing technical regulations and conformity assessment procedures, of its regional level of governments are published, and are accessible through an official website or journal.

12. For the purposes of applying Article 2.12 and Article 5.9 of the TBT Agreement, the term "reasonable interval" shall mean normally a period of not less than six months, except when this would be ineffective in fulfilling the legitimate objectives pursued by the technical regulation or by the requirements concerning the conformity assessment procedure.

13. When a Party detains at the point of entry an imported consignment, due to noncompliance with a technical regulation or a conformity assessment procedure, it shall notify the importer or its representative, as soon as possible, the reasons for the detention.

Article 7.10
Cooperation and Trade Facilitation

1. The Parties shall strengthen their cooperation in the fields of technical regulations, standards, and conformity assessment procedures with a view to facilitating trade between the Parties.

2. A Party shall, upon request of the other Party, give consideration to sector specific proposals, for cooperation under this Chapter on matters of mutual benefit.

3. The Parties shall explore opportunities to promote cooperation between themselves, and between bodies in each Party's territory to develop technical regulations, standards, and conformity assessment procedures.

Article 7.11
Technical Discussions

1. A Party may request technical discussions with the other Party with the aim of resolving any matter that arises under this Chapter.

2. Unless the Parties agree otherwise, the Parties shall hold technical discussions within 60 days of the request for technical discussions, and by any agreed method. The Parties shall endeavour to reach a mutually satisfactory solution to the matter as expeditiously as possible and if the requesting Party considers that the matter is urgent, it may request that any discussions commence within a shorter timeframe. In that case, the responding Party shall give positive consideration to this request.

3. For greater certainty, a Party may request technical discussions with the other Party regarding technical regulations or conformity assessment procedures of its regional level of government that may have a significant effect on trade.

4. Information provided in the course of technical discussions is provided in confidence and the other Party shall maintain the confidentiality of the information subject to its laws and regulations.

Article 8.2
Scope

1. This Chapter shall apply to measures by a Party affecting trade in services.

2. For the purposes of this Chapter, "measures by a Party" means measures taken by:

   (a) central, regional, or local governments and authorities of that Party; and

   (b) non-governmental bodies in the exercise of powers delegated by central, regional, or local governments or authorities of that Party.

   In fulfilling its obligations and commitments under this Chapter, each Party shall take such reasonable measures as may be available to it to ensure their observance by regional and local governments and authorities and non-governmental bodies within its territory.

3. This Chapter shall not apply to measures relating to:

   (a) financial services as defined in Article 9.1 (Definitions – Financial Services);

   (b) government procurement;

   (c) subsidies or grants provided by a Party, including government-supported loans, guarantees and insurance;

   (d) audio-visual services; and

   (e) cabotage[2] in maritime transport services.[3]

4. This Chapter does not impose any obligation on a Party with respect to a natural person of the other Party who seeks access to its employment market or who is employed on a permanent basis in its territory, and does not confer any right on that natural person with respect to that access or employment. For greater

[2] For India, maritime cabotage is the transportation of passengers or goods between any port or place located in India and any other port or place located in India and transportation of passengers or goods originating or terminating in the same port or place located in India, including transportation of passengers or goods between a port or a place located in India and another port, place, installation or structure situated in the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) of India or on the continental shelf of India. Maritime cabotage shall further include services such as floating storage, offloading, towing, anchor-handling, dredging, off-shore drilling/production, diving support, maintenance support, various types of surveys, cable laying, sea-bed mining operations, pipe-laying, lighterage, salvage, marine construction, hook-up, port and terminal related support services, provided those services are supplied in the above areas by the vessels.

For the United Kingdom, maritime cabotage covers the transportation of passengers or goods between a port or point located in the United Kingdom and another port or point located in the United Kingdom, including on its continental shelf, as provided for in the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, done in Montego Bay, Jamaica, on 10 December 1982, and traffic originating and terminating in the same port or point located in the United Kingdom.

[3] This exclusion shall not affect the additional commitments undertaken by a Party for International Maritime Transport Services in its Schedule in Annex 8A (Schedules of Specific Commitments).

certainty, this Chapter does not apply to measures regarding citizenship, nationality or residence on a permanent basis.

5. In respect of air transport services, this Chapter shall not apply to measures affecting traffic rights however granted, or measures affecting services directly related to the exercise of traffic rights, other than measures affecting:

   (a) aircraft repair and maintenance services;

   (b) line maintenance services;

   (c) selling and marketing of air transport services;

6. For greater certainty, Annex 8A (Professional Services) is an integral part of this Chapter.

7. In the event of any inconsistency between this Chapter and a bilateral, plurilateral, or multilateral air services agreement to which both Parties are party, the air services agreement shall prevail in determining the rights and obligations of the Parties.

8. Notwithstanding Article 29.5 (Choice of Forum – Dispute Settlement), if the Parties have the same obligations under this Agreement and a bilateral, plurilateral, or multilateral air services agreement, a Party may invoke the dispute settlement procedures of this Agreement only after any dispute settlement procedures in the other agreement have been exhausted.

Article 8.3
Market Access

1. With respect to market access through the modes of supply identified in the definition of "trade in services" in Article 8.1 (Definitions), each Party shall accord services and service suppliers of the other Party treatment no less favourable than that provided for under the terms, limitations, and conditions agreed and specified in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments).[4]

[4] If a Party undertakes a market-access commitment in relation to the supply of a service through the mode of supply referred to in subparagraph (a) of the definition "trade in services" in Article 8.1 (Definitions) and if the cross-border movement of capital is an essential part of the service itself, that Party is thereby committed to allow such movement of capital. If a Party undertakes a market-access commitment in relation to the supply of a service through the mode of supply referred to in subparagraph (c) of the definition "trade in services" in Article 8.1 (Definitions), it is thereby committed to allow related transfers of capital into its territory.

2. In sectors where market-access commitments are undertaken, the measures which a Party shall not maintain or adopt either on the basis of a regional subdivision or on the basis of its entire territory, unless otherwise specified in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments), are defined as:

(a) limitations on the number of service suppliers whether in the form of numerical quotas, monopolies, exclusive service suppliers or the requirements of an economic needs test;

(b) limitations on the total value of service transactions or assets in the form of numerical quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;

(c) limitations on the total number of service operations or on the total quantity of service output expressed in terms of designated numerical units in the form of quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;[5]

(d) limitations on the total number of natural persons that may be employed in a particular service sector or that a service supplier may employ and who are necessary for, and directly related to, the supply of a specific service in the form of numerical quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;

(e) measures which restrict or require specific types of legal entity or joint venture through which a service supplier may supply a service; and

(f) limitations on the participation of foreign capital in terms of maximum percentage limit on foreign shareholding or the total value of individual or aggregate foreign investment.

3. If a Party undertakes a market-access commitment in relation to the supply of a service through a mode of supply referred to in subparagraph (a), (b), or (d) of the definition of "trade in services" in Article 8.1 (Definitions), that Party shall not require a service supplier of the other Party to establish or maintain a representative office, a branch, or any form of juridical person, or to be resident in its territory as a condition for the supply of that service through the relevant mode of supply, unless otherwise specified in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments).

Article 8.4
National Treatment

1. Each Party shall, in the sectors inscribed in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedule of Specific Commitments) and subject to any conditions and qualifications set out therein, accord to services and service suppliers of the other Party, in respect of all measures affecting the supply of services, treatment no less favourable than that it accords to its own like services and service suppliers.[6]

[5] This subparagraph does not cover measures of a Party which limit inputs for the supply of services.

2. A Party may meet the requirement under paragraph 1 by according to services and service suppliers of the other Party, either formally identical treatment or formally different treatment to that it accords to its own like services and service suppliers.

3. Formally identical or formally different treatment shall be considered to be less favourable if it modifies the conditions of competition in favour of services or service suppliers of the Party compared to like services or service suppliers of the other Party.

Article 8.5
Additional Commitments

1. The Parties may negotiate commitments with respect to measures affecting trade in services, including those regarding qualifications, standard or licensing matters, not subject to scheduling, under Article 8.4 (National Treatment) or Article 8.3 (Market Access).

2. A Party making additional commitments under paragraph 1 shall inscribe such commitments in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments).

Article 8.6
Schedules of Specific Commitments

1. Each Party shall set out in its Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments), the specific commitments it undertakes under Article 8.4 (National Treatment), Article 8.3 (Market Access), and Article 8.5 (Additional Commitments). With respect to sectors where such commitments are undertaken, each Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments) shall specify:

   (a) terms, limitations, and conditions on market access;

   (b) conditions and qualifications on national treatment;

   (c) undertakings relating to additional commitments; and

   (d) where appropriate, the time frame for implementation of such commitments.

[6] Specific commitments assumed under this Article shall not be construed to require any Party to compensate for any inherent competitive disadvantages which result from the foreign character of the relevant services or service suppliers.

2. Measures inconsistent with both Article 8.4 (National Treatment) and Article 8.3 (Market Access) shall be inscribed in the column relating to Article 8.3 (Market Access). In this case, the inscription shall be considered to provide a condition or qualification to Article 8.4 (National Treatment) as well.

3. For greater certainty, Schedules of Specific Commitments shall be annexed to this Chapter as Annex 8B (Schedules of Specific Commitments) and shall form an integral part thereof.

Article 8.7
Most-Favoured-Nation Treatment[7]

1. Each Party shall, in respect of the sectors and subsectors set out in its Schedule in Annex 8C (Most-Favoured-Nation Treatment Sectoral Coverage) and subject to any terms, limitations, conditions and qualifications set out therein, accord to services and service suppliers of the other Party treatment no less favourable than that it accords to like services and service suppliers of a non-Party.

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, each Party reserves the right to adopt or maintain any measure that accords differential treatment to services and service suppliers of any non-Party under any bilateral or multilateral international agreement in force at, or signed prior to, the date of entry into force of this Agreement.

3. If, after the date of entry into force of this Agreement, a Party enters into any agreement with a non-Party in which it undertakes to provide treatment to services or service suppliers of that non-Party in a sector or subsector not set out in that Party's Schedule in Annex 8C (Most-Favoured-Nation Treatment Sectoral Coverage), more favourable than that it accords under this Agreement to like services or service suppliers of the other Party, the other Party may request consultations to discuss the possibility of extending, under this Agreement, treatment no less favourable than that provided for in the agreement with the non-Party to services and service suppliers of the other Party. In such circumstances, the Parties shall enter into consultations bearing in mind the overall balance of benefits.

4. This Article shall not be construed as to prevent a Party from conferring or according advantages to adjacent countries in order to facilitate exchanges limited to contiguous frontier zones of services that are both locally produced and consumed.

Article 8.8
Domestic Regulation

1. For the purposes of this Article:

[7] For greater certainty, this Article does not cover treatment accorded by a Party to services and service suppliers of territories for whose international relations that Party is responsible.

"authorisation" means permission to supply a service, resulting from a procedure to which a person of a Party must adhere in order to demonstrate compliance with licensing requirements or qualification requirements; and

"competent authority" means a central, regional, or local government or authority or non-governmental body in the exercise of powers delegated by a central, regional, or local government or authority, which is entitled to take a decision concerning authorisation for the supply of a service.

2. This Article shall:

(a) apply to sectors where specific commitments are undertaken in a Party's Schedule in Annex 8B (Schedule of Specific Commitments); and

(b) not apply to any terms, limitations, conditions, or qualifications set out in a Party's Schedule pursuant to Articles 8.3 (Market Access) or 8.4 (National Treatment).

3. Each Party shall ensure that all measures of general application affecting trade in services are administered in a reasonable, objective and impartial manner.

4. Each Party shall maintain or institute as soon as practicable judicial, arbitral, or administrative tribunals or procedures which provide, on request of an affected service supplier, for the prompt review of, and where justified, appropriate remedies for, administrative decisions affecting trade in services. Where such procedures are not independent of the agency entrusted with the administrative decision concerned, the Party shall ensure that the procedures in fact provide for an objective and impartial review.

5. Nothing in paragraph 4 shall be construed to require a Party to institute such tribunals or procedures where this would be inconsistent with its constitutional structure or the nature of its legal system.

6. With a view to ensuring that measures relating to qualification requirements and procedures, technical standards, and licensing requirements and procedures, do not constitute unnecessary barriers to trade in services, the Parties shall jointly review the result of the WTO negotiation on disciplines on such measures, pursuant to Article VI.4 of GATS and shall amend this article, as appropriate, after consultation among the Parties to bring the results of those negotiations into effect under this Chapter. Such disciplines shall aim to ensure that such requirements, inter alia:

(a) are based on objective and transparent criteria, such as competence and the ability to supply the service;

(b) are not more burdensome than necessary to ensure the quality of the service; and

(c) in the case of licensing and qualifications procedures, are not in themselves a restriction on the supply of the service.

7. (a) In sectors in which a Party has undertaken commitments, pending the entry into force of disciplines in these sectors pursuant to paragraph 6, the Party shall not apply licensing and qualification requirements and technical standards that nullify or impair such commitments in a manner which:

(i) does not comply with the criteria outlined in subparagraphs 6(a), (b), or (c); and

(ii) could not reasonably have been expected of that Party at the time the commitments in those sectors were made.

(b) In determining whether a Party is in conformity with its obligations under subparagraph 7(a), international standards of relevant international organisations[8] applied by that Party shall be taken into account.

8. If a Party requires authorisation for the supply of a service, the Party shall:

(a) promptly publish[9] information necessary for obtaining an authorisation. Where it exists, the information may include:

(i) the licensing and qualification requirements and procedures;

(ii) contact information of relevant competent authorities;

(iii) fees;

(iv) procedures for appeal or review of decisions concerning applications;

(v) indicative or fixed timeframes for processing applications; and

(vi) the length of authorisations, and where relevant, dates for renewal;

(b) endeavour to ensure that the information referred to in subparagraph (a) is easily accessible through electronic means, and to the extent practicable, is consolidated into a single online portal; and

(c) encourage its competent authorities to respond, to the extent practicable, to any reasonable request for information or assistance.

9. Each Party shall, to the extent practicable, avoid requiring an applicant to approach more than one competent authority for each application for authorisation for the supply of a service. If a service is within the jurisdiction of [8] The term "relevant international organisations" refers to international bodies whose membership is open to the relevant bodies of the Parties.

[9] For the purposes of these disciplines, "publish" means to include in an official publication, such as an official journal, or on an official website.

multiple competent authorities, multiple applications for authorisation may be required.

10. If a Party requires authorisation for the supply of a service, it shall ensure that its competent authorities:

(a) to the extent practicable, permit the submission of an application at any time throughout the year.[10] If a specific time period for applying exists, the Party shall ensure that its competent authorities allow a reasonable period of time for the submission of an application;

(b) endeavour to accept applications in electronic format under the equivalent conditions of authenticity as paper submissions; and endeavour to allow for the completion of any relevant authorisation procedures without the physical presence of the applicant in the territory of that Party;

(c) where they deem appropriate, accept copies of documents that are authenticated in accordance with its laws and regulations, in place of original documents;

(d) to the extent practicable, establish a fixed or indicative timeframe for the processing of an application;

(e) to the extent practicable, confirm in writing[11] that an application has been received;

(f) upon request of the applicant, provide without undue delay information concerning the status of the application;

(g) within a reasonable period of time after the submission of an application considered complete under its laws and regulations, ensure that the processing of the application is completed and the applicant is informed of the decision concerning the application, to the extent possible in writing;[12]

(h) if they consider an application incomplete for processing under the Party's laws and regulations, within a reasonable period of time, to the extent practicable:

(i) inform the applicant that the application is incomplete;

(ii) upon request of the applicant, identify the additional information required to complete the application, or otherwise

[10] Competent authorities are not required to start considering applications outside of their official working hours and working days.

[12] Competent authorities may meet this requirement by informing an applicant in advance, in writing, including through a published measure, that the lack of a response after a specified period of time from the date of submission of an application indicates either acceptance or rejection of the application.

provide guidance on why the application is considered incomplete; and

(iii) provide the applicant with the opportunity[13] to correct deficiencies in the application; and

(i) if an application is rejected:

(i) inform the applicant of the decision within a reasonable period of time; and

(ii) to the extent practicable, either upon their own initiative or upon request of the applicant, provide the applicant with the reasons for rejection and with specific guidance to address the issues identified in order to obtain an authorisation The applicant will have the possibility of resubmitting, at its discretion, a new application.

11. Each Party shall ensure, in accordance with its laws and regulations, that authorisation for the supply of a service, once granted, enters into effect without undue delay.[14]

12. Each Party shall ensure that the authorisation fees[15] charged by its competent authorities are reasonable, transparent and do not in themselves restrict the supply of a service. Each Party shall endeavour to accept the payment of those authorisation fees by electronic means.

13. Each Party shall provide adequate procedures to verify the competence of professionals of the other Party.

14. If a Party requires an examination for authorisation for the supply of a service, it shall, to the extent practicable:

(a) provide a reasonable period of time prior to the examination to enable interested persons to submit an application;

(b) ensure that the examination is scheduled at reasonably frequent intervals;

(c) accept a request in electronic format to take the examination; and

(d) consider the use of electronic means for conducting the examination and other aspects of the examination process.

[15] For the purposes of this paragraph, authorisation fees do not include fees for the use of natural resources, payment for auction, tendering, or other non-discriminatory means of awarding concessions or mandated contributions to universal services provision.

15. Each Party may encourage its competent authorities to establish fast-track procedures for service suppliers seeking to renew or extend their current authorisations.

16. If a Party adopts or maintains measures relating to authorisation for the supply of a service, it shall ensure that its competent authorities reach and administer their decisions in a manner independent from any supplier of a service for which authorisation is required.[16]

Article 8.9
Recognition

1. For the purposes of the fulfilment, in whole or in part, of its standards or criteria for the authorisation, licensing, or certification of service suppliers, and subject to the requirements of paragraph 4, a Party may recognise the education or experience obtained, requirements met, or licences or certifications granted in a non-Party. That recognition, which may be achieved through harmonisation or otherwise, may be based upon an agreement or arrangement with the non-Party concerned, or may be accorded autonomously.

2. If a Party recognises, autonomously or by agreement or arrangement, the education or experience obtained, requirements met, or licences or certifications granted, in the territory of a non-Party, nothing in Article 8.7 (Most-Favoured-Nation Treatment) shall be construed to require the Party to accord recognition to the education or experience obtained, requirements met, or licences or certifications granted, in the territory of the other Party.

3. A Party that is party to an agreement or arrangement of the type referred to in paragraph 1, whether existing or future, shall afford adequate opportunity for the other Party, upon request, to negotiate its accession to that agreement or arrangement, or to negotiate comparable ones with it. Where a Party accords recognition autonomously, that Party shall afford adequate opportunity for the other Party to demonstrate that education, experience, licences, or certifications obtained or requirements met in that other Party's territory should be recognised.

4. A Party shall not accord recognition in a manner which would constitute a means of discrimination between the other Party and non-Parties in the application of its standards or criteria for the authorisation, licensing, or certification of service suppliers, or a disguised restriction on trade in services.

5. As set out in Annex 8A (Professional Services), each Party shall endeavour to facilitate trade in professional services, including through encouraging relevant bodies in its territory that have expressed mutual interest for negotiating mutual recognition agreements or similar arrangements for recognition of professional qualifications to enter into those negotiations in accordance with that Annex.

[16] For greater certainty, this paragraph does not mandate a particular administrative structure. It refers to the decision-making process and administering of decisions.

Article 8.10
Denial of Benefits

1. A Party may deny the benefits of this Chapter:

   (a) to the supply of any service, if it establishes that the service is supplied from or in the territory of a non-Party;

   (b) to a service supplier that is a juridical person, if it establishes that it is not a service supplier of the other Party; or

   (c) in the case of the supply of a maritime transport service, if it establishes that the service is supplied:

      (i) by a vessel registered under the laws and regulations of a non-Party; and

      (ii) by a person of a non-Party which operates or uses the vessel in whole or in part.

2. A Party may deny the benefits of this Chapter to a service supplier of the other Party, if the service supplier is a juridical person owned or controlled by person of a non-Party, and the denying Party adopts or maintains measures with respect to the non-Party or a person of the non-Party that prohibit transactions with the juridical person or that would be violated or circumvented if the benefits of this Chapter were accorded to the juridical person.

Article 8.11
Transparency

1. The Parties recognise that transparent measures governing trade in services are important in facilitating the ability of service suppliers to gain access to, and operate in, each other's markets. Each Party shall promote regulatory transparency in trade in services.

2. Notwithstanding Article 25.7 (Non-Application of Dispute Settlement – Transparency), as far as measures of general application affecting trade in services are concerned, the provisions of Article 25.2 (Publication – Transparency) shall be applicable for central, regional, and local governments and authorities of a Party and shall be subject to Chapter 29 (Dispute Settlement).

3. Each Party shall publish promptly and, except in emergency situations, no later than the time of their entry into force, all international agreements pertaining to or affecting trade in services to which a Party is a signatory.

4. Each Party shall respond promptly to any request by the other Party for specific information on any of its measures of general application, including any new, or any changes to existing, laws, regulations or administrative guidelines, or its international agreements, that the requesting Party considers may pertain to or affect trade in services.

Article 8.12
Disclosure of Confidential Information

Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as requiring a Party to provide to the other Party confidential information the disclosure of which would impede law enforcement or otherwise be contrary to the public interest or which would prejudice the legitimate commercial interests of particular juridical persons, public or private.

Article 8.13
Monopolies and Exclusive Service Suppliers

1. Each Party shall ensure that any monopoly supplier of a service in its territory does not, in the supply of the monopoly service in the relevant market, act in a manner inconsistent with that Party's obligations under specific commitments.

2. Where a Party's monopoly supplier of a service competes, either directly or through an affiliated company, in the supply of a service outside the scope of its monopoly rights and which is subject to that Party's commitments, that Party shall ensure that such a supplier does not abuse its monopoly position to act in its territory in a manner inconsistent with such commitments.

3. If a Party has a reason to believe that a monopoly supplier of a service of the other Party is acting in a manner inconsistent with paragraph 1 or 2, it may request the other Party establishing, maintaining, or authorising that supplier to provide specific information concerning the relevant operations.

4. This Article shall also apply to cases of exclusive service suppliers, where a Party, formally or in effect:

   (a) authorises or establishes a small number of service suppliers; and

   (b) substantially prevents competition among those suppliers in its territory.

Article 8.14
Business Practices

1. The Parties recognise that certain business practices of service suppliers, other than those falling under Article 8.13 (Monopolies and Exclusive Service Suppliers), may restrain competition and thereby restrict trade in services.

2. Each Party shall, on request of the other Party, enter into consultations with a view to eliminating practices referred to in paragraph 1. The requested Party shall accord full and sympathetic consideration to such request and shall cooperate through the supply of publicly available non-confidential information of relevance to the matter in question. The requested Party may also provide other information available to the requesting Party, subject to its laws and regulations and to the conclusion of a satisfactory agreement concerning the safeguarding of its confidentiality by the requesting Party.

Article 8.15
Payments and Transfers

1. Except under the circumstances envisaged in Article 28.3 (Measures to Safeguard the Balance of Payments – General Provisions and Exceptions), a Party shall not apply restrictions on international transfers or payments for current transactions relating to its specific commitments.

2. Each Party shall permit international transfers or payments for current transactions relating to its specific commitments to be made in a freely convertible currency at the market rate of exchange prevailing at the time of transfer.

3. Nothing in this Chapter shall affect the rights and obligations of a Party as a member of the International Monetary Fund ("IMF") under the IMF Articles of Agreement, as may be amended, including the use of exchange actions which are in conformity with the IMF Articles of Agreement, as may be amended, provided that the Party shall not impose restrictions on any capital transaction inconsistently with its specific commitments under this Chapter regarding such transactions, except under Article 28.3 (Measures to Safeguard the Balance of Payments – General Provisions and Exceptions) or on request of the IMF.

Article 8.16
Safeguard Measures

1. The Parties note that Article X of GATS provides for multilateral negotiations on the question of emergency safeguard measures based on the principle of non-discrimination. The Parties shall review the issue of emergency safeguard measures related to trade in services in light of any provisions agreed under Article X of GATS with a view to their incorporation into this Chapter.

2. In the event that a Party encounters difficulties in the implementation of its commitments under this Chapter, that Party may request consultations with the other Party to address those difficulties.

Article 8.17
Subsidies

1. Notwithstanding subparagraph 3(c) of Article 8.2 (Scope), the Parties shall review the issue of disciplines on subsidies related to trade in services in light of any disciplines agreed under Article XV of GATS with a view to their incorporation into this Chapter.

2. A Party which considers that it is adversely affected by a subsidy of the other Party related to trade in services may request consultations with the other Party on such matters. On receipt of such a request, the requested Party shall enter into consultations with the requesting Party, with a view to resolving the matter, provided that the request includes an explanation of how the subsidy has adversely affected trade in services between the Parties. During the consultations, the Party granting the subsidy may consider a request of the other Party for information relating to the subsidy.

3. Neither Party shall have recourse to dispute settlement under Chapter 29 (Dispute Settlement) for any request made or consultations held under this Article or any other dispute arising under this Article.

Article 8.18
Cooperation

The Parties shall strengthen cooperation efforts in sectors, including sectors which are not covered by current cooperation arrangements. The Parties shall discuss and agree on the sectors for cooperation and develop cooperation programmes in these sectors in order to improve their domestic services capacity and their efficiency and competitiveness.

Article 8.19
Subcommittee on Trade in Services

1. The Parties hereby establish a Subcommittee on Trade in Services ("Subcommittee") composed of relevant government representatives of each Party.[17]

2. The Subcommittee shall:

   (a) review and monitor the implementation and operation of this Chapter, Chapter 9 (Financial Services), Chapter 10 (Temporary Movement of Natural Persons), Chapter 11 (Telecommunications), and Chapter 12 (Digital Trade) ("the relevant Chapters");

   (b) consider ways to further enhance trade between the Parties in the areas covered by the relevant Chapters;

   (c) consider any other matters related to this Chapter identified by either Party; and [17] Representatives of the authorities responsible for financial services are specified in paragraph 2 of Article 9.17 (Institutional Arrangements – Financial Services).

(d) facilitate the exchange of information between the Parties in relation to the relevant Chapters.

3. The Subcommittee may:

(a) make recommendations, or refer matters, to the Joint Committee; and

(b) refer matters to any ad hoc or standing working group or any other subsidiary body related to the relevant Chapters.

4. The Subcommittee shall meet one year after the date of entry into force of this Agreement, and thereafter as agreed by both Parties.

5. The Subcommittee shall report to the Joint Committee as required.

ANNEX 8A
Professional Services

Article 8A.1
Definitions

For the purposes of this Annex:

"professional qualifications" means qualifications attested by evidence of formal qualifications or professional experience.

Article 8A.2
Scope

1. This Annex shall apply to measures of a Party affecting the supply of services in professions that are regulated[1] in the territory of either Party ("professional services").

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, paragraph 4 of Article 8A.7 (Working Group on Professional Services) shall apply to services in professions that are not regulated in either Party or in both Parties.

Article 8A.3
Objectives

1. The objectives of this Annex are to:

   (a) encourage the development of systems for the recognition of professional qualifications, including through mutual recognition or similar arrangements between the relevant bodies of the Parties, to better facilitate international trade in professional services between the Parties; and

   (b) facilitate the sharing of knowledge and expertise on professional services, accreditation, standards, and regulation between relevant bodies of the Parties.

[1] A profession is regulated in a Party if the practice of that profession, including the use of a title or designation, is subject to the possession of specific professional qualifications by virtue of a measure of that Party.

Article 8A.4
Recognition of Professional Qualifications

1. Each Party shall within 12 months of the date of entry into force of this Agreement, engage with its relevant bodies and identify professional services where mutual interest may exist between the relevant bodies of each Party for negotiating mutual recognition or similar arrangements for recognition of professional qualifications. Each Party shall thereafter encourage its relevant bodies that have expressed mutual interest to initiate those negotiations with the relevant bodies of the other Party with a view to concluding those negotiations within 36 months of the date of entry into force of this Agreement. The Parties shall promptly exchange their contact points to facilitate those negotiations.

2. Each Party shall encourage its relevant bodies to take into account, as appropriate, plurilateral or multilateral agreements that relate to professional services in the development of agreements on the recognition of professional qualifications.

Article 8A.5
Temporary or Project-Specific Licensing

Each Party may consider, if feasible, taking steps to encourage its relevant bodies to consider implementing procedures for the temporary or project-specific licensing of professional service suppliers of the other Party. Those procedures should not operate to prevent a professional service supplier from gaining a local licence once that supplier satisfies the applicable local licensing requirements.

Article 8A.6
Professional standards

1. Each Party shall encourage its relevant bodies that have expressed mutual interest pursuant to paragraph 1 of Article 8A.4 (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) to establish dialogues on professional standards and criteria. In particular, those dialogues may include the following matters:

   (a) education;

   (b) examinations;

   (c) experience;

   (d) conduct and ethics;

   (e) professional development and recertification;

   (f) scope of practice;

(g) local knowledge; and

(h) consumer protection.

2. On request of a Party, the other Party shall, where practicable, provide information concerning standards and criteria for professional service suppliers, or otherwise provide information relating to the appropriate regulatory or other body to consult regarding these standards and criteria.

3. Each Party shall endeavour to encourage its relevant bodies to refer to international frameworks, where applicable, in their dialogues on professional standards and criteria for the relevant professions.

Article 8A.7
Working Group on Professional Services

1. The Parties hereby establish a Working Group on Professional Services ("Working Group") composed of representatives of each Party.

2. The Working Group may invite, as appropriate, relevant experts, including representatives of relevant bodies, to attend meetings.

3. The Working Group shall:

(a) liaise, as appropriate, to support the relevant bodies of each Party in pursuing the objectives of this Annex. This support may include providing points of contact, facilitating meetings, and providing or facilitating exchange of information;

(b) review and monitor the implementation and operation of this Annex, including with regard to the measures adopted by a Party pursuant to it, and with a view to identifying areas for improvement;

(c) exchange information on any matters relating to this Annex, including sharing best practices; and

(d) consider any other issues relating to this Annex including those referred to it by the Subcommittee on Trade in Services or by the Joint Committee.

4. The Working Group may consider input from professional bodies, other than from regulated professions, in respect of which mutual interest exists in establishing dialogues on recognition of professional qualifications. Where mutual interest is identified, and the Working Group deems it appropriate, each Party shall encourage the relevant body in its territory to establish dialogues on recognition of professional qualifications.[2]

[2] Where the profession is regulated in the other Party, the dialogues shall be held with the relevant body in that Party responsible for the regulated profession.

5. The Working Group shall report to the Subcommittee on Trade in Services and may make recommendations on best practices.

6. The Working Group shall meet 12 months after the date of entry into force of this Agreement, and thereafter as agreed by the Parties.

SCHEDULE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

2. The reference to "CPC" against specific sectors or sub-sectors is a reference to the Provisional Central Product Classification (Statistical Papers, Series M, No. 77, Department of International Economic and Social Affairs, Statistical Office of the United Nations, New York, 1991). The reference to "CPC ver. 1.0" is a reference to the Central Product Classification (Statistical Papers, Series M, No. 77, Ver. 1.0, Department of International Economic and Social Affairs, Statistical Office of the United Nations, New York, 1998). The reference to "CPC ver. 2.1" is a reference to the Central Product Classification (Statistical Papers, Series M, No. 77, Ver. 2.1, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, Statistical Division of the United Nations, New York, 2015).

3. The modes of supply 1), 2), 3) and 4) indicated in the Schedule correspond respectively to the modes of supply of services identified in subparagraphs (a) through (d) of the term "trade in services" defined in Article 8.1 (Definitions).

4. The Schedule does not include measures relating to qualification requirements and procedures, technical standards, authorisation requirements and licensing requirements and procedures where they do not constitute a limitation within the meaning of Article 8.3 (Market Access) or Article 8.4 (National Treatment). These measures may include, in particular, the need to obtain a licence, to satisfy universal service obligations, to have recognised qualifications in regulated sectors, to have completed a recognised period of training, to pass specific examinations, including language examinations, to fulfil a membership requirement of a particular profession, such as membership in a professional organisation, to have a local agent for service, or to maintain a local address, or any non-discriminatory requirements that certain activities may not be carried out in protected zones or areas. While not listed, such measures continue to apply.

To facilitate comprehension, specific footnotes in this list of commitments will indicate in an illustrative and non-exhaustive way those sectors where public utilities play a major role.

[2] When selling or disposing of its equity interests in, or the assets of, a state-owned juridical person or a governmental entity providing health, social or education services, the UK may prohibit or impose limitations on the ownership of such interests or assets, and on the ability of owners of such interests and assets to control any resulting juridical person, by natural or juridical persons of India. With respect to such a sale or other disposition, the UK may adopt or maintain any measure relating to the nationality or residency of senior management or members of the boards of directors, as well as any measure limiting the number of suppliers. 'State-owned juridical person' means a juridical person owned or controlled through ownership interests by the UK and includes a juridical person established solely for the purposes of selling or disposing of equity interests in, or the assets of, an existing state-owned juridical person or governmental entity.

[6] Specific commitments assumed under this Article shall not be construed to require any Party to compensate for any inherent competitive disadvantages which result from the foreign character of the relevant financial services or financial service suppliers.

[7] And for greater certainty, commitments may relate to the whole or part of a subsector, as specified by a Party in its Schedule in Annex 9A (Schedules of Specific Commitments on Financial Services).

   (b) conditions and qualifications on national treatment;

   (c) undertakings relating to additional commitments; and

1. A Party may deny the benefits of this Chapter:

   (a) to the supply of any financial service, if it establishes that the financial service is supplied from or in the territory of a non-Party; or

   (b) to a financial service supplier that is a juridical person, if it establishes that it is not a financial service supplier of the other Party.

2. A Party may deny the benefits of this Chapter to a financial service supplier of the other Party, if the financial service supplier is a juridical person owned or controlled by person of a non-Party, and the denying Party adopts or maintains measures with respect to the non-Party or a person of the non-Party that prohibit transactions with the juridical person or that would be violated or circumvented if the benefits of this Chapter were accorded to the juridical person.

Article 9.10
Transparency

1. Chapter 24 (Good Regulatory Practice) and Chapter 25 (Transparency) do not apply to a measure covered by this Chapter.

2. The Parties recognise that transparent measures of general application governing the activities of financial service suppliers are important in facilitating their ability to gain access to and operate in each other's markets. Each Party commits to promote regulatory transparency in financial services.

3. Each Party shall:

   (a) ensure that all measures of general application to which this Chapter applies are administered in a reasonable, objective, and impartial manner;

   (b) ensure that all measures of general application to which this Chapter applies are promptly published or made available in such a manner as to enable an interested person and the other Party to become acquainted with them;

   (c) to the extent possible, ensure advance publication of any measures of general application, to which this Chapter applies, that it proposes to adopt and provide an interested person and the other Party a reasonable opportunity to comment on these proposed measures;

   (d) maintain or establish enquiry points and appropriate mechanisms to respond, within a reasonable period of time, to an inquiry or a request for information from an interested person regarding measures of general application to which this Chapter applies;

(e) allow, to the extent possible, a reasonable period of time between the final publication of a measure of general application, to which this Chapter applies, and the date when it enters into effect; and

(f) ensure that measures of general application adopted or maintained by a self-regulatory organisation of the Party, to which this Chapter applies, are promptly published or otherwise made available in a manner that enables interested persons to become acquainted with them.

4. If a Party adopts or maintains measures relating to authorisation for the supply of a financial service, the Party shall ensure that:

(a) such measures are based on objective and transparent criteria;[12] and

(b) the procedures are impartial, not more burdensome than necessary to ensure the quality of the financial service and do not in themselves constitute a restriction on the supply of the financial service.

5. If a Party requires authorisation for the supply of a financial service, the financial regulatory authorities of the Party shall:

(a) promptly publish[13] the information necessary for financial service suppliers to comply with the requirements and procedures for obtaining, maintaining, amending and renewing such authorisation;

(b) to the extent practicable, not require an applicant to approach more than one financial regulatory authority for each application for authorisation. If a financial service is within the jurisdiction of multiple financial regulatory authorities, multiple applications for authorisation may be required;

(c) allow a reasonable period for the submission of an application;

(d) to the extent possible, accept applications in electronic format;

(e) accept copies of documents, that are authenticated in accordance with that Party's law, in place of original documents, unless the financial regulatory authorities require original documents to protect the integrity of the authorisation process;

(f) ensure that any authorisation fees[14] charged by financial regulatory authorities are reasonable, transparent and do not in themselves restrict

[12] Such criteria may include competence and the ability to supply a financial service, including to do so in a manner consistent with a Party's regulatory requirements. Financial regulatory authorities may assess the weight to be given to each criterion.

[13] For the purposes of these disciplines, "publish" means to include in an official publication or on an official website.

(h) in the case of an application considered complete for processing under the Party's law, make a decision on the application within 180 days and notify the applicant of the decision without undue delay. An application shall not be considered complete until all relevant proceedings are conducted and all necessary information is received. Where it is not practicable for a decision to be made within 180 days, the financial regulatory authorities shall notify the applicant of this without undue delay and shall endeavour to make the decision within a reasonable period of time thereafter;

(i) in the case of an application considered incomplete under the Party's law, within a reasonable period of time, to the extent practicable:

(i) inform the applicant that the application is incomplete;

(ii) at the request of the applicant, provide guidance on why the application is considered incomplete; and

(iii) provide the applicant with the opportunity16 to provide the additional information that is required to complete the application, and ensure that any deadlines for the additional information required are made clear to the applicant;

however, if none of the actions in subparagraphs (i) through (iii) is practicable, and the application is rejected due to incompleteness, ensure that the applicant is informed within a reasonable period of time;

(j) if an application is rejected then, either upon the request of an unsuccessful applicant in writing, or upon their own initiative, to the extent practicable, inform the applicant of the reasons for denial of the application;

(k) an applicant should not be prevented from submitting another revised application solely on the basis that an application had been previously rejected; and

(l) ensure that authorisation, once granted, may enter into effect without undue delay, subject to the applicable terms and conditions.[17]

[15] References to "in writing" include in an electronic format.
[16] Such opportunity does not require a financial regulatory authority to provide extensions of deadlines.
[17] Financial regulatory authorities are not responsible for delays due to reasons outside their competence.

Article 9.11
Payments and Clearing

Under terms and conditions that accord national treatment, each Party shall grant to financial service suppliers of the other Party that supply or seek to supply a financial service through commercial presence in the Party's territory access to payment and clearing systems operated by public entities, and to official funding and refinancing facilities available in the normal course of ordinary business.[18] This Article is not intended to confer access to the Party's lender of last resort facilities[19].

Article 9.12
Performance of Back-Office Functions

1. Each Party recognises that the back-office functions of a financial service supplier that supplies or seeks to supply a financial service through commercial presence in its territory, which are performed by the head office or an affiliate of that financial service supplier in the territory of either Party, may be important to the effective management and efficient operation of that financial service supplier.

2. A Party may require a financial service supplier that supplies or seeks to supply a financial service through commercial presence in its territory to ensure compliance with any domestic requirements, including in relation to its core and critical functions, but recognises the importance of avoiding the imposition of arbitrary requirements on the performance of back-office functions.

3. To the extent practicable, and subject to paragraph 2, each Party shall permit the performance of such back-office functions as are referred to in paragraph 1 by such a head office or affiliate as is referred to in paragraph 1. For greater certainty, nothing in this Article prevents a Party from requiring a financial service supplier that supplies or seeks to supply a financial service through commercial presence in its territory to retain certain functions, including core and critical functions.

Article 9.14
Financial Services New to the Territory of a Party[21]

1. Each Party shall permit a financial service supplier of the other Party established and supplying a new financial service in the territory of the other Party to supply such new financial service through commercial presence in the territory of the first Party that the first Party would permit its own financial service suppliers to supply, in like situations, without adopting a law or modifying an existing law.[22] Each Party may:

   (a) notwithstanding subparagraph 2(e) of Article 9.6 (Market Access), determine the institutional and juridical form through which the new financial service may be supplied;

   (b) require authorisation, regulation or supervision for the supply of the service from the relevant regulator; and

   (c) require the financial service supplier of the other Party to become authorised to do business and to be regulated or supervised by the relevant regulator under the law of the Party.

2. Where a Party requires authorisation to supply the new financial service, a decision by the relevant regulator as to whether to grant authorisation shall be made within a reasonable time.

Recognition

1. A Party may recognise prudential measures of the other Party or a non-Party, which may be based on relevant standards of any international standard setting

[21] The Parties understand that nothing in this Article prevents a financial service supplier of a Party from applying to the other Party to request that it authorises the supply of a financial service that is not supplied in the territory of either Party. That application shall be subject to the law of the Party to which the application is made and, for greater certainty, shall not be subject to this Article.

[22] For greater certainty, a Party may issue a new regulation or other subordinate measure in permitting the supply of the new financial service.

2. A Party that is a party to such an agreement or arrangement referred to in paragraph 1, whether future or existing, shall afford adequate opportunity to the other Party to negotiate its accession to such agreement or arrangements, or to negotiate comparable ones with it, under circumstances in which there would be equivalent regulation, oversight, implementation of such regulation and, if appropriate, procedures concerning the sharing of information between the Parties to the agreement or arrangement.

3. Where a Party accords recognition autonomously it shall afford adequate opportunity to the other Party to demonstrate that such circumstances as referred to in paragraph 2 exist.

4. Nothing in this Chapter shall affect the rights and obligations of a Party as a member of the International Monetary Fund ("IMF") under the IMF Articles of Agreement, as may be amended, including the use of exchange actions which are in conformity with the IMF Articles of Agreement, as may be amended, provided that the Party shall not impose restrictions on any capital transaction inconsistently with its specific commitments under this Chapter regarding such transactions, except under Article 28.3 (Measures to Safeguard the Balance of Payments – General Provisions and Exceptions) or on request of the IMF.

3. The consulting Parties shall report the results of their consultations to the Subcommittee on Trade in Services.

Article 9.19

3. Further to paragraph 5 of Article 29.15 (Compensation and Suspension of Concessions or other Obligations – Dispute Settlement), in considering what concessions or other obligations to suspend for the purposes of that Article, the complaining Party shall apply the following principles. In cases where the panel has found an inconsistency with the Agreement which affects:[23]

(a) the financial services sector and any other sector, the complaining Party may suspend obligations in the financial services sector that have an effect that does not exceed a level equivalent to the level of nullification or impairment in the complaining Party's financial services sector; or

(b) notwithstanding paragraph 5(b) of Article 29.15 (Compensation and Suspension of Concessions or other Obligations – Dispute Settlement), only a sector other than the financial services sector, the complaining Party shall not suspend obligations in the financial services sector.

Article 9.20

As part of these efforts, the Parties shall exchange views through appropriate forums on issues relating to financial services at intervals as agreed by the Parties. The forums may include existing forums, or such forums as may be agreed by the Parties, and shall be composed of relevant entities to be decided by the Parties, which shall include, where appropriate, the regulatory and supervisory authorities of the Parties.

(b) strengthening financial systems and promoting financial stability;

(c) improving market integrity, mitigating unnecessary market fragmentation and promoting fair and competitive markets;

[23] For the avoidance of doubt, in cases where the Panel has found an inconsistency with the Agreement which affects only the financial services sector, the principles in paragraphs 5 and 6 of Article 29.15 (Compensation and Suspension of Concessions or other Obligations – Dispute Settlement) shall apply.

(d) promoting robust and efficient financial service suppliers, markets, and infrastructure;

(e) protecting consumers, investors, depositors, policy holders and persons to whom a fiduciary or statutory duty is owed by a financial service supplier; and

(b) where the provision of financial services is wholly or partially contingent on an assessment by the Party of the credit rating of that financial service supplier or the sovereign credit rating of the other Party,

[24] For the purpose of this paragraph, the Parties shall treat FinTech and RegTech as referring to activities which involve the improved use of technology across financial services.
[25] Diversity includes, but is not limited to, gender, ethnicity, and professional, educational and socio-economic background.

the host Party shall, to the extent practicable, undertake its assessment in a reasonable manner.[26]

Electronic Payments

1. Recognising the rapid growth of electronic payments, including those provided by non-banks and FinTech entities, the Parties shall, while maintaining resilience, endeavour to work together to support the development of an efficient, safe and secure environment for cross-border electronic payments, including through:

   (a) encouraging mutual cooperation and sharing information about each other's experience, technical expertise and innovations in the area of digital payment infrastructure and products;

   (b) encouraging the adoption and use of internationally accepted standards;

   (c) promoting interoperability and interlinkages of electronic payment infrastructures including payment systems; and

   (c) facilitate innovation and competition and the introduction of new electronic payment products and services, such as through adopting regulatory and industry sandboxes and cooperation at international fora.

3. In view of paragraph 1, the Parties recognise the importance of upholding safety, efficiency, trust and security in electronic payment systems through laws and regulatory measures, and that the adoption and enforcement of laws, regulatory measures and policies should take into account the risks undertaken by the payment service providers.

On receipt of such a request, the requested Party shall enter into consultations with the requesting Party, with a view to resolving the matter, provided that the request includes an explanation of how the subsidy has adversely affected trade in financial services between the Parties. During the consultations, the Party granting the subsidy may consider a request of the other Party for information relating to the subsidy.

3. Neither Party shall have recourse to dispute settlement under Chapter 29 (Dispute Settlement) for any request made or consultations held under this Article, or any other dispute arising under this Article.

CHAPTER 10
TEMPORARY MOVEMENT OF NATURAL PERSONS

Article 10.1
Definitions

For the purposes of this Chapter:

"immigration formality" means a visa, permit, pass or other document or electronic authority granting temporary entry;

"natural person of a Party" means a national of a Party as defined in Article 1.4 (General Definitions – Initial Provisions and General Definitions); and

"temporary entry" means entry into and temporary stay in the territory of a Party by a natural person of the other Party covered by this Chapter without the intent to establish permanent residence.

Article 10.2
Objectives

1. The objectives of this Chapter are to:

   (a) provide for rights and obligations in relation to the temporary movement of natural persons between the Parties;

   (b) facilitate the temporary entry of natural persons covered by this Chapter who are engaged in the supply of services; and

   (c) ensure streamlined and transparent processes for obtaining immigration formalities for the temporary entry of natural persons covered by this Chapter.

Scope

1. This Chapter shall apply to measures by a Party affecting the temporary entry into the territory of that Party by natural persons of the other Party who fall under any of the categories defined in the former Party's Schedule in Annex 10A (Schedules of Specific Commitments on Temporary Movement of Natural Persons).

2. For greater certainty, Annex 10A (Schedules of Specific Commitments on Temporary Movement of Natural Persons) is an integral part of this Chapter.

3. This Chapter shall not apply to measures affecting natural persons seeking access to the employment market of a Party nor shall it apply to measures regarding citizenship, nationality, residence, or employment on a permanent basis.

4. Nothing in this Agreement shall prevent a Party from applying measures to regulate the temporary entry of natural persons of the other Party into, or their temporary stay in, its territory, including those measures necessary to protect the integrity of and to ensure the orderly movement of natural persons across its borders, provided that those measures are not applied in a manner as to nullify or impair the benefits accruing to the other Party under this Chapter.

5. The sole fact that a Party requires natural persons of the other Party to obtain an immigration formality shall not be regarded as nullifying or impairing the benefits accruing to the other Party under this Chapter.

6. For greater certainty, all requirements provided for in the law of each Party regarding employment and social security shall continue to apply, including laws and regulations concerning minimum wages and collective wage agreements, provided that those requirements are consistent with the obligations in this Chapter and in any agreement between the Parties regarding employment or social security measures.

Article 10.4
Grant of Temporary Entry

1. Each Party shall set out in its Schedule in Annex 10A (Schedules of Specific Commitments on Temporary Movement of Natural Persons) the commitments it makes for the temporary entry of natural persons of the other Party, which shall specify the conditions and limitations for temporary entry, including length of stay, for the categories of natural persons of that other Party included in that Schedule.

2. Each Party shall grant temporary entry or extension of temporary stay to natural persons of the other Party to the extent provided for in those commitments made pursuant to paragraph 1, provided that those natural persons:

   (a) follow the granting Party's prescribed application procedures for the relevant immigration formality; and

   (b) meet all relevant eligibility requirements for temporary entry into, or extension of temporary stay in, the granting Party.

3. In respect of the specific commitments on temporary entry of natural persons in this Chapter, unless otherwise specified in Annex 10A (Schedules of Specific Commitments on Temporary Movement of Natural Persons), neither Party shall adopt or maintain limitations on the total number of natural persons of the other Party to be granted temporary entry, in the form of numerical quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test.

4. A Party may refuse to issue an immigration formality to a natural person of the other Party covered by this Chapter if the temporary entry of that person might affect adversely:

   (a) the settlement of any labour dispute that is in progress at the place or intended place of employment; or

   (b) the employment of any natural person who is involved in such dispute.

5. The sole fact that a Party grants temporary entry to a natural person of the other Party pursuant to this Chapter shall not be construed to exempt that natural person from meeting any applicable licensing or other requirements, including any mandatory codes of conduct, to practise a profession or otherwise engage in business activities.

Article 10.5
Processing of Applications

1. On receipt of a complete application for an immigration formality, or an extension or renewal thereof, each Party shall, as expeditiously as possible, process the application, make a decision on it and notify the applicant of the decision. Such notification shall include:

   (a) for approved applications, the period of temporary stay and, if practicable, any other relevant conditions; and

   (b) for refused or denied applications, information on any available review or appeal procedures and, to the extent required by the law of a Party, the reasons for refusal or denial.

2. On request of an applicant, each Party in receipt of a complete application for an immigration formality, or an extension or renewal thereof, shall endeavour to promptly provide information concerning the status of the application.

3. Where source code of software has been revealed to a Party, or to a designated conformity assessment body operating in a Party's territory, upon its request, that Party shall adopt or maintain measures to prevent the unauthorised disclosure of source code of software. To this end, each Party shall provide for appropriate safeguards against that disclosure, including by limiting the access to, and use of, that source code of software to those who are essential to the performance of that activity only.

4. This Article shall not apply to the voluntary transfer of, or granting of access to, source code of software by a person of the other Party:

   (a) on a commercial basis, such as in the context of a freely negotiated contract; or

   (b) under an open-source licence, such as in the context of open-source coding.

Principles

3. A prior trade mark may continue to be used and renewed for that good notwithstanding the protection of the geographical indication provided that no grounds for the trade mark's invalidity or revocation exist in the laws and regulations of the Party concerned.

   (b) where the subject matter of a patent is a process, to prevent third parties not having the owner's consent from the act of using the process, and from the acts of using, offering for sale, selling, or importing for these purposes at least the product obtained directly by that process.

2. Each Party shall also provide that a patent owner has the right to assign, or transfer by succession, the patent and to conclude licensing contracts.

Article 13.47
Patentable Subject Matter

1. Subject to paragraphs 2 and 3, each Party shall make patents available for any invention, whether a product or process, in all fields of technology, provided that the invention is new, involves an inventive step, and is capable of industrial application.[16] Subject to paragraph 3, each Party shall make patents available and patent rights enjoyable without discrimination as to the place of invention, the field of technology, and whether products are imported or locally produced.

2. A Party may exclude from patentability inventions, the prevention within its territory of the commercial exploitation of which is necessary to protect ordre public or morality, including to protect human, animal or plant life or health or to avoid serious prejudice to the environment, provided that the exclusion is not made merely because the exploitation is prohibited by its law.

[15] This right, like all other rights conferred in this Chapter in respect of the use, sale, importation or other distribution of goods, is subject to the provisions of Article 13.11 (Exhaustion of Intellectual Property Rights).

[16] For the purposes of this Article, a Party may deem the terms "inventive step" and "capable of industrial application" to be synonymous with the terms "non-obvious" and "useful" respectively.

3. A Party may also exclude from patentability:

(a) diagnostic, therapeutic and surgical methods for the treatment of humans or animals; and

(b) plants and animals other than micro-organisms, and essentially biological processes for the production of plants or animals other than non-biological and microbiological processes.

Article 13.48
Exceptions

A Party may provide limited exceptions to the exclusive rights conferred by a patent, provided that those exceptions do not unreasonably conflict with a normal exploitation of the patent and do not unreasonably prejudice the legitimate interests of the patent owner, taking account of the legitimate interests of third parties.

Article 13.49
Regulatory Review Exception

1. Without prejudice to the scope of, and consistent with, Article 13.48 (Exceptions), each Party:

(a) shall provide that a third party may do an act that would otherwise infringe a patent with respect to a pharmaceutical product invention if the act is done for purposes connected with obtaining regulatory approval[17] in that Party or another country or both; and

(b) may provide that a third person may do an act that would otherwise infringe a patent with respect to all other types of invention if the act is done for purposes connected with obtaining regulatory approval in that Party or another country or both.

The Parties understand that nothing in this Chapter shall limit a Party's rights and obligations under the TRIPS Agreement to authorise the use of a patent without the authorisation of the right holder.

[17] For the purposes of Article 13.49, a Party may treat "regulatory approval" to mean "marketing approval".

Article 13.51

1. Each Party shall provide a patent applicant with at least one opportunity to make amendments, corrections, and observations in connection with its application, in accordance with their laws and regulations.

2. Neither Party shall revoke or invalidate a patent, either totally or in part, without the patent owner being given the opportunity to make observations on the intended revocation or invalidation, and to make amendments and corrections where permitted under a Party's law.

3. A Party may provide that amendments made pursuant to paragraph 1 or 2 do not go beyond the scope of the disclosure of the invention, as of the filing date.

Publication of Patent Applications

1. Recognising the benefits of transparency in the patent system, each Party shall endeavour to publish unpublished pending patent applications promptly after the expiration of 18 months from the filing date or, if priority is claimed, from the earliest priority date.

2. If a pending application is not published promptly in accordance with paragraph 1, a Party shall publish that application, or the corresponding patent, as soon as practicable.

Article 13.54
Conditions on Patent Applicants

1. Each Party shall require an applicant for a patent to disclose the invention in a manner sufficiently clear and complete for the invention to be carried out by a person skilled in the art and may require the applicant to indicate the best mode for carrying out the invention known to the inventor at the filing date or, where priority is claimed, at the priority date of application.

2. A Party may require a patent applicant to provide information concerning the applicant's corresponding foreign application and grants. A mere failure to comply with this requirement shall not result in revocation of or refusal to grant a patent, except where the competent authority determines there is deliberate or wilful suppression of information.

3. The patent granting authority may give due consideration to information concerning the applicant's corresponding foreign application and grants which is publicly available or otherwise available to the granting authority, during the patent application process.

Article 13.55

2. A Party which allows a third party to oppose a patent application prior to its grant shall, subject to its law, adopt[18] measures in support of paragraph 1.[19]

Article 13.56

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, a Party may require a patent owner to provide a disclosure concerning the working of a patent, in a given case, in accordance with its law.

3. Each Party shall ensure that an owner of a registered industrial design has at least the right to prevent third parties not having the owner's consent from making, offering, selling, or importing an article or product bearing or embodying the registered industrial design which is a copy, or substantially a copy, of the registered industrial design, where those acts are undertaken for commercial purposes.

3. The procedures and remedies must be:

   (a) fair and equitable;

   (b) applied in such a manner as to avoid the creation of barriers to legitimate trade, including electronic commerce, and to provide for safeguards against their abuse;

1. Each Party shall provide that its judicial authorities may, on request by the applicant:

   (a) issue against the alleged infringer, and subject to the Party's law, a third party over whom the relevant judicial authority exercises jurisdiction and whose services are used to infringe an intellectual property right, an interlocutory injunction intended to prevent any imminent infringement of an intellectual property right, or to forbid the continuation of the alleged infringement of that right, on a provisional basis or to make that continuation subject to the lodging of guarantees intended to ensure the compensation of the right holder; and

   (b) order the seizure or delivery up of goods suspected of infringing at least trade marks, copyright, geographical indications and designs so as to prevent their entry into or movement within the channels of commerce.

2. In the case of an alleged infringement committed on a commercial scale, each Party shall provide that if the applicant demonstrates circumstances likely to endanger the recovery of damages, its judicial authorities may order the precautionary seizure of immovable property of the alleged infringer. A Party may also provide that its judicial authorities may order the precautionary seizure of movable property of the alleged infringer, including the blocking of the alleged infringer's bank accounts and other assets.

Article 13.78
Evidence

1. Each Party shall provide that their judicial authorities, where a party has presented reasonably available evidence sufficient to support its claims and has specified evidence relevant to substantiation of its claims which lies in the control of the opposing party, may order that this evidence be produced by the opposing party, subject in appropriate cases to conditions which ensure the protection of confidential information.

2. In cases in which a party to a proceeding voluntarily and without good reason refuses access to, or otherwise does not provide necessary information within a reasonable period, or significantly impedes a procedure relating to an enforcement action, a Party may accord judicial authorities the authority to make preliminary and final determinations, affirmative or negative, on the basis of the information presented to them, including the complaint or the allegation presented by the party adversely affected by the denial of access to information, subject to providing the parties an opportunity to be heard on the allegations or evidence.

1. Each Party shall provide that their judicial authorities may order that goods that they have found to be infringing be disposed of outside the channels of commerce, without compensation of any sort to the infringer, and in such a manner as to avoid causing any harm to the right holder, or unless this would be contrary to existing constitutional requirements, destroyed.

2. Each Party shall also provide that their judicial authorities have the authority to order that materials and implements, the predominant use of which has been in the creation of the infringing goods, be disposed of outside the channels of commerce in such a manner as to minimise the risks of further infringements, without compensation of any sort to the infringer.

3. In regard to counterfeit trade mark goods, the simple removal of the trademark unlawfully affixed shall not be sufficient, other than in exceptional cases, to permit the release of the goods into the channels of commerce.

Safeguards

1. Each Party shall provide that its judicial authorities may require the applicant for a measure provided for in Article 13.76 (Provisional and Precautionary Measures) in respect of an intellectual property right to provide any reasonably available evidence in order to satisfy the judicial authority, with a sufficient degree of certainty, that the applicant's right is being infringed or that an infringement is imminent, and to order the applicant to provide security or equivalent assurance set at a level sufficient to protect the person against whom a measure is sought and to prevent abuse. This security or equivalent assurance shall not unreasonably deter recourse to those procedures.

2. Each Party shall provide that its judicial authorities may order a party at whose request measures were taken and who has abused enforcement procedures with regard to intellectual property rights, to provide to a person subject to those measures adequate compensation for the injury suffered because of that abuse. (a) order that a person participating in those proceedings shall not disclose or use any trade secret or alleged trade secret which the judicial authority has identified as confidential, in response to a duly reasoned application by an interested party, and on which the person participating has become aware as a result of their participation; and

(b) take measures to preserve the confidentiality of any trade secret or alleged trade secret in the proceedings relating to the alleged disclosure, acquisition, or use of a trade secret in a manner contrary to honest commercial practices. Those specific measures may include restricting access to certain documents in whole or in part, restricting access to hearings and corresponding records or transcript, and making available non-confidential versions of a judicial decision with trade secrets removed or redacted.

Subsection 3

2. For the purposes of this Subsection, "suspected goods" means goods suspected of infringing trade marks, copyrights and related rights, geographical indications, or industrial designs under the law of the Party providing the procedures.

3. A Party may exclude from the application of this Subsection small quantities of goods of a non-commercial nature contained in travellers' personal luggage or sent in small consignments.

4. There shall be no obligation to apply the procedures, as described in this Subsection, to imports of goods put on the market in another country by or with the consent of the right holder, or to goods in transit.

Article 13.88
Applications

1. Each Party shall provide that its competent authorities require a right holder who requests the procedures to suspend the release of, or to detain, suspected goods under customs control:

   (a) to provide adequate evidence to satisfy its competent authorities that, pursuant to its law, there is prima facie an infringement of the right holder's intellectual property right; and

   (b) to supply sufficient information that may reasonably be expected to be within the right holder's knowledge to make the suspected goods reasonably recognisable by its competent authorities.

2. Each Party shall ensure that its competent authorities decide whether they shall grant applications to suspend the release of suspected goods within a reasonable period of time of the initiation of the procedures described in Article 13.87 (Scope of Border Measures), as provided under each Party's law.

3. Each Party shall ensure that any fees imposed to cover the administrative costs, arising from the processing or recording of an application, are commensurate with the costs incurred by the competent authorities.

4. Each Party shall provide that, where requested by the customs authorities, the holder of the granted application shall be obliged to reimburse the costs incurred by the customs authorities or other parties acting on behalf of customs authorities, from the moment of detention or suspension of the release of the goods, including storage, handling and any costs relating to the destruction or disposal of the goods.

Article 13.89
Security or Equivalent Assurance

Each Party shall provide that its competent authorities may require a right holder initiating procedures referred to in Article 13.87 (Scope of Border Measures) to provide a security or equivalent assurance sufficient to protect the defendant and the competent authorities and to prevent abuse. Each Party shall provide that the security or equivalent assurance shall not unreasonably deter recourse to these procedures.

Article 13.90
Notice of Suspension

Each Party shall provide that the importer and the applicant are promptly notified of the suspension of the release of goods.

Article 13.91
Indemnification of the Importer and of the Owner of the Goods

The Parties shall provide that their respective relevant authorities may order the applicant to pay the importer, the consignee and the owner of the goods appropriate compensation for any injury caused to them through the wrongful detention of goods.

Article 13.92
Suspension of IPR Infringing Goods by Ex-Officio Action

1. Each Party shall provide that its competent authorities may suspend the release into free circulation of, or detain, imported suspected goods[31] under customs control ex officio, without the need for a formal complaint from a third party or right holder. Each Party shall provide that its customs authorities use risk management to identify suspected goods, which may include random selection.

2. Each Party shall only exempt both public authorities and officials from liability to appropriate remedial measures where actions are taken or intended in good faith.

[31] For greater certainty, a Party may comply with this requirement by requiring that its competent authorities have reasonable grounds for believing that the goods are suspected goods.

3. Each Party shall provide that its competent authorities may, where they act on their own initiative, request a right holder to supply relevant information to assist the competent authorities in the exercise of those powers.

Article 13.93
Provision of Information to Right Holder

A Party may provide that its competent authorities may inform the right holder of the names and addresses of the consignor, exporter, consignee or importer; a description of the suspected goods; the quantity of the suspected goods; and, if known, the country of origin of the suspected goods. This paragraph is without prejudice to a Party's law pertaining to privacy or confidential information and applies if a Party's competent authorities have detained or suspended the release of suspected goods.

Article 13.94
Authority to Determine Infringements

Each Party shall adopt or maintain procedures under which its competent authorities may determine, within a reasonable period after initiation of procedures to suspend the release of, or to detain, the suspected goods under customs control and upon due examination, whether suspected goods infringe an intellectual property right.

Article 13.95
Remedies

Each Party shall provide that its competent authorities may order the destruction or disposal of suspected goods following a determination that the goods are infringing. In cases where goods are not destroyed, each Party shall provide that, other than in exceptional circumstances, the goods are disposed of outside the channels of commerce in such a manner as to avoid any harm to the right holder. In regard to counterfeit trade mark goods, the simple removal of a trade mark unlawfully affixed shall not be sufficient, other than in exceptional cases, to permit the release of the goods into the channels of commerce.

Subsection 4
Criminal Procedures and Penalties

Article 13.96
Offences

1. Each Party shall provide for criminal procedures and penalties to be applied at least in cases of wilful trade mark counterfeiting or copyright piracy on a commercial scale, whether or not carried out for commercial advantage or financial gain.

2. Each Party shall provide for criminal procedures and penalties to be applied in cases of selling, offers for sale, or distribution in the course of trade and on a commercial scale, of a label or packaging:

   (a) to which a trade mark has been applied without authorisation that is identical to, or cannot be distinguished from, a trade mark registered in its territory; and

   (b) that is intended to be used in the course of trade on goods that are identical to goods for which that trade mark is registered.

3. With respect to the offences specified in paragraphs 1 and 2, each Party shall provide that criminal liability for aiding and abetting is available under its law.[32]

Article 13.97

Seizure

With respect to the offences specified in Article 13.96 (Offences), each Party shall provide that its competent authorities may order the seizure of suspected counterfeit trade mark goods or pirated copyright goods, any related materials and implements which have been predominantly used in the commission of the alleged offence, or documentary evidence relevant to the alleged offence, and assets derived from or obtained through the alleged infringing activity.

   (a) all counterfeit trade mark goods or pirated copyright goods;

[32] For greater certainty, this Article also applies to offences in any free trade zones in a Party.

[33] A Party may also provide for its competent authorities to order the disposal of items under this Article outside the channels of commerce in such a manner as to avoid causing any harm to the right holder.

(b) materials and implements that have been predominantly used in the creation of pirated copyright goods or counterfeit trade mark goods; and

(c) any other labels or packaging to which a counterfeit trade mark has been applied and that have been used in the commission of the offence.
